Foreword

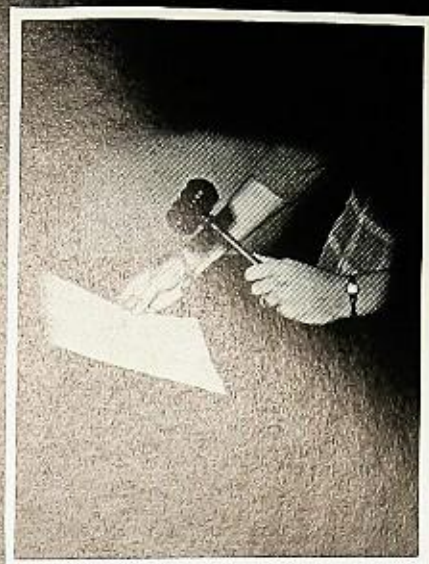

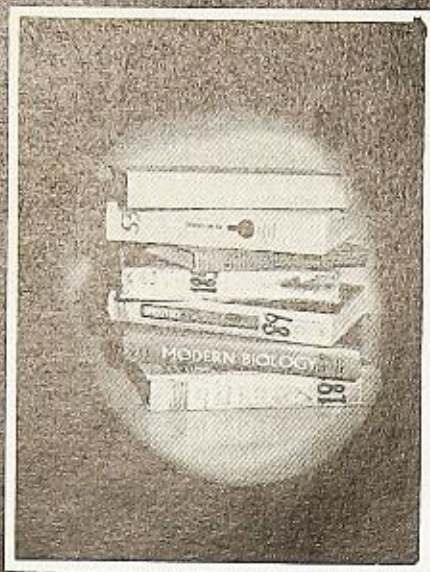

Throughout history a key has been a symbol of introduction. A tiny key can open the doors of huge buildings or start engines of powerful machines. In a sense, a key can also be an instrument of development. With the abstract keys of success, maturity, and knowledge, one can unlock the doors to a successful future. Therefore, the 1963 Taller staff has chosen "Keys to Success" as the theme of this annual. In presenting this book to the student of Rochelle Township High School, the staff hopes it will become one of the most cherished possessions of his high school career.

In Dedication

For many years William Helms has served this school, first as a teacher and coach, presently as a biology teacher and athletic director. As athletic director, he has made available a wide variety of sports so that any boy who has the will and determination may participate. To you, Mr. Helms, we dedicate the 1963 Tatler in return for the hard work and time you have devoted to this school and its students.

Classes

Seniors Unlock Doors to Future Success

Senior advisor Mr. Gieske discusses with Senior class officers Paul Snyder, treasurer; Mary Hintzsche, secretary; Sonia Benson, vice-president; and Alan Cooper, president, the scholarships available to college-bound students.

While studying calculus in Miss Parks' advanced mathematics class, Jim Scott explains the solution for the constant 'e.'

Cramming for an exam, Cheryl Friestad concentrates on an assignment.

Neil Schafer, Pam Purkins and Jeff Schon demonstrate the principle of a spinning gyroscope that offers the resistance to change in direction of its axis.

Hold Keys to Knowledge, Prestige, and Maturity

Four years ago another freshman class was initiated into Rochelle Township High School. Part of the class was an invisible, empty key ring, unrecognized, perhaps, but there. The key ring still belongs to that class which is now officially entitled the Senior Class of 1963. The ring, however, is no longer empty, and the keys that are on it represent the attitudes, achievement, and activities of the Class of '63 during its four-year tenure at R.T.H.S.

In September, 1959, the Class of '63 began unlocking doors, with every opened door adding a new key to its ring. Since their freshman year members of the class have been opening doors to classrooms. Once inside, some have cooked and sewed, dissected worms, made timelines, taken timings, typed manuscripts, made speeches, studied cattle and corn, planed wood, made hydrogen, read books, kept ledgers, added, subtracted, interpolated, painted, and made ripple tanks. In addition, every member has taken English with all its study guides, Shakespeare, Word Wealth words, and spelling lists that the course entails.

Noted for its succeed-big, fail-big characteristics, and its quality of large top, large bottom, and meager middle, the Class of '63 ranks extremely high scholastically, producing a record number of state scholarship semifinalists—20, and the first Merit Scholar semifinalists in R.T.H.S. history—three of them. Yet, on the other side of the scale, there are some scholastic failures who dropped by the wayside.

After the ninth hour bell and often before the first hour bell, members of the class have been seen for four years entering doors to run movie projectors, to join the "Future" clubs as homemakers, farmers, teachers, nurses, or scientists, to become a part of the language clubs, and to learn to take pictures. Also, '63'ers flung open the doors to the music department. Here they composed a large portion of the choir and concert band their senior year, not to mention leading roles in madrigals, boys' octet, dance band, and state music contest participation. There was undoubtedly a metallic "clink" whenever a member of the class received the lead in a play, sang a solo, received a state music superior, was appointed editor of the Tatler or the Ro-To, or was elected president of F.T.A. or Spanish Club. The sound was another key added to the fast-filling ring.

Moreover, class members have found keys to every area of the locker room as they have excelled in all sports. Seniors of '63 can look back on active participation in R.T.H.S. athletics, as harriers, gridders, cagers, grapplers, trackmen, golfers, and tennis or baseball players. The 1962 football team, with nine seniors in the starting line-up, was the most outstanding in the school's history, bringing all-state players . . . NCIC champs . . . an undefeated season . . . strings of victories. Above the roars of the crowd at every resounding Hub victory was the noise of keys being abundantly added to the class's ring.

Social life has certainly not been neglected by the '63'ers. They have been seen in the frenzy of two-way traffic around the study halls in the pre-period one hours, dating, twisting at the after-the-game dances, serving on committees, being leaders as well as followers, and adding to the mass confusion of each day. '63 rings have been distributed among a large segment of the immediate population, and as a class, '63'ers have undertaken with originality and energy the frosh-soph party, their extravaganza of paper napkins, chicken wire, and man-sized daisies—"Wonderland by Night," and the senior banquet.

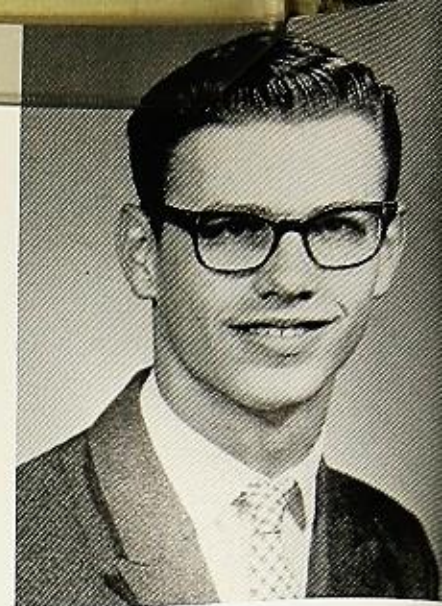

Other keys on the ring are harder to define, for they represent the keys to the abstractions—knowledge, confidence, prestige, and maturity, the qualities that in four short years transform a boasting, awkward, chattering, often obnoxious freshman into a gay, poised, serious-minded, confident senior.

The seniors of '63 reached their final and perhaps most significant hour in the limelight as they sat capped and gowned ready to receive their diplomas. Together, the seniors filled their class key ring with meaningful accomplishments. Now, the final key, the key to success, to happiness and a full future life is on the ring; however, it is up to each individual class member to earn this key for himself.

Juniors Led by Well Chosen Officers

"Hey, you guys, pile those boards over here! If we're going to build a successful junior year for the class of '64 . . . Mr. G., if you're going to be advisor for this, get those blueprints in order! So far we have a good foundation with class officers like president, Chris Schweitzer; vice-president, Cheryl Berg; secretary, K. C. Ward; and treasurer, Arlene Pesuth.

Before we continue our construction work, we have to purchase a new scale. You see, the old one was broken by the record number of mums that were sold by ambitious juniors for Homecoming. Although the scales were broken, each order for raw materials (such as coffee, hot dogs, and doughnuts) was successfully filled at the concession stand during home football games. One more detail we want to mention before we complete the frame, which will be constructed of a typical junior's academic subjects, is the fact that you did a good job checking supplies for the coat-check room during the basketball season.

While trying to finish one wall of chemistry, several 64'ers found that their building problems were threatened with the electron configurations, s-p-q-r, as well as the threat of receiving no returns from their breakage tickets.

George Barnes studies diligently in one of the many study halls occupied by students during the school day.

Juniors Lay Foundation for Upper-Upper Classmanship

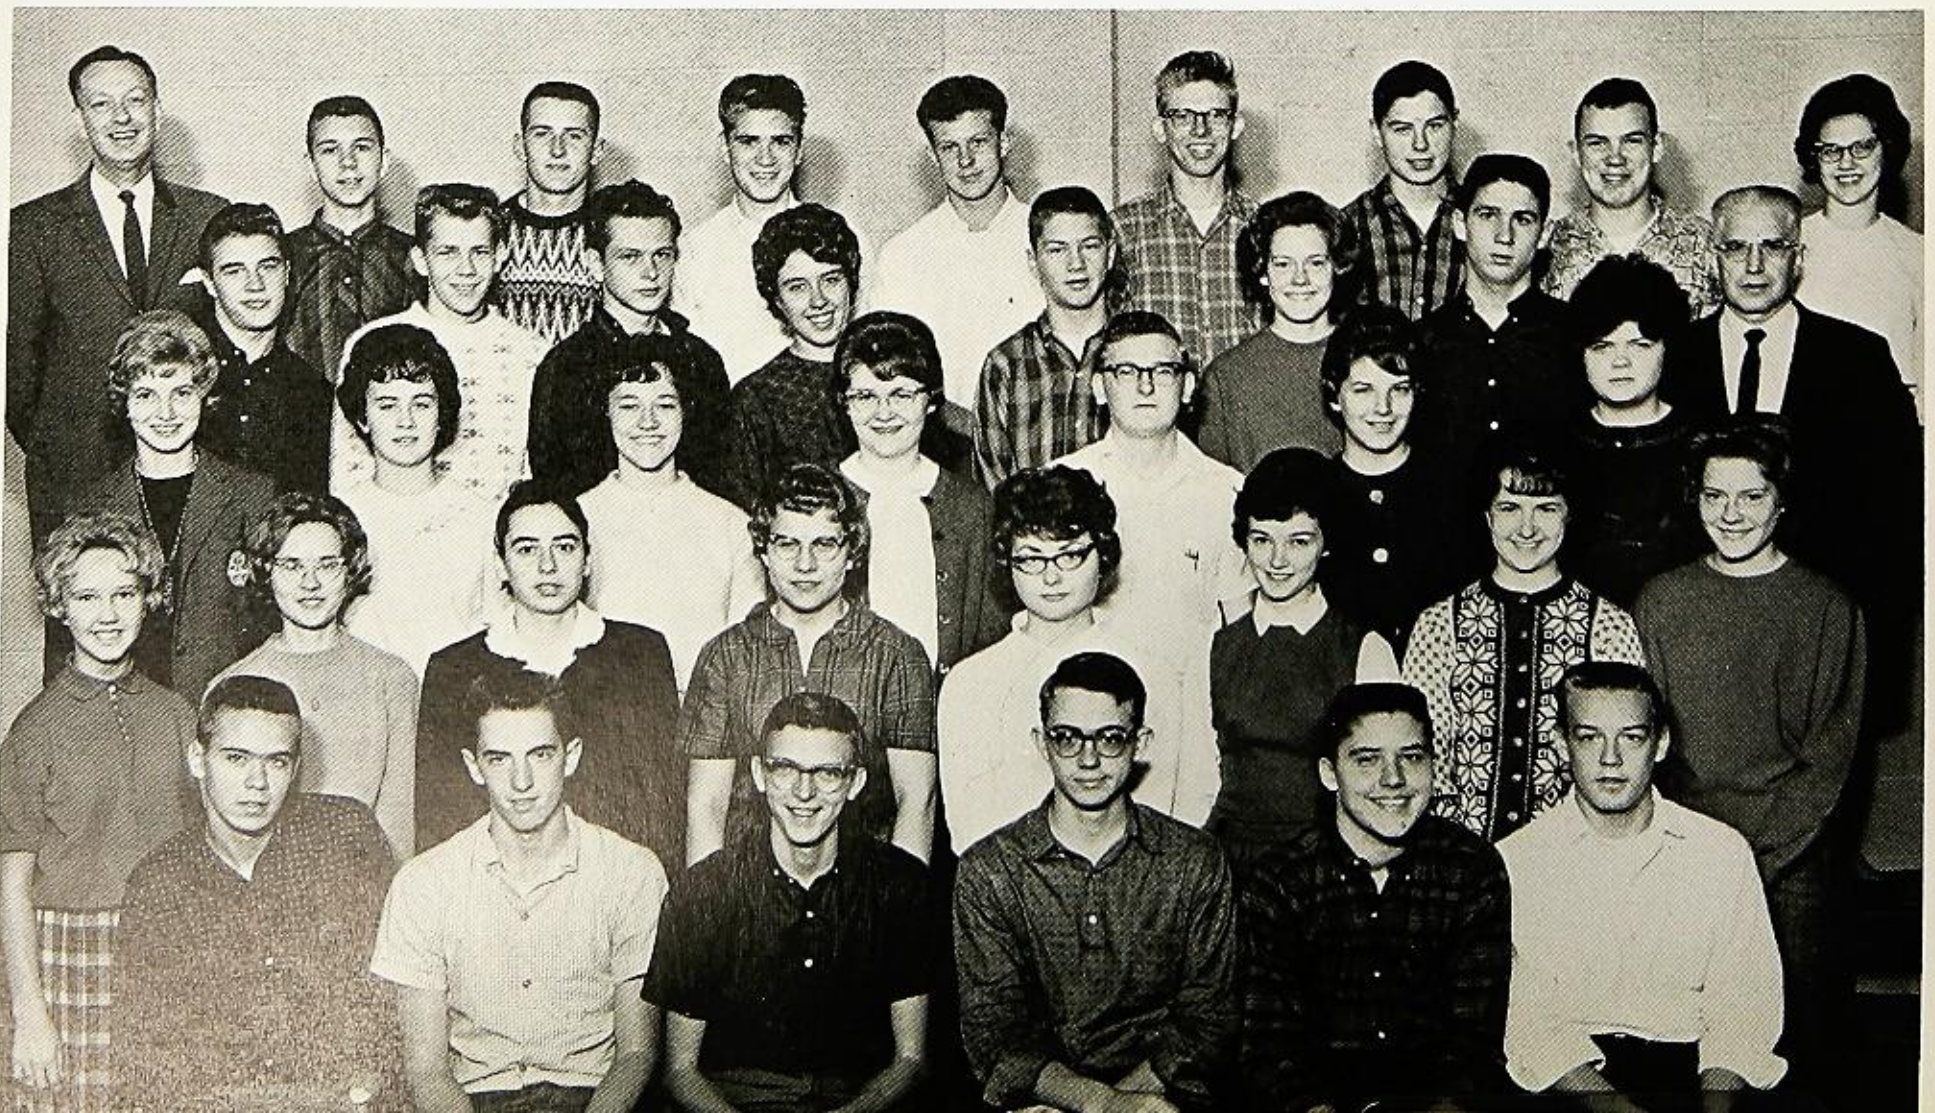

The east wall was built on U. S. History data with Mrs. Thomas, Mr. McMahon and Mr. Guio diligently hammering important historical points into all their students. We had to make the west side with English III. Those term papers, verbals, and study guides should look good against a setting sun. The north wall was nailed up with graphs, quadratic and linear equations, and proportions from Algebra III.

After the completion of the walls, we plastered them with a smattering of typing and shorthand, putting a ; s l d k along the bottom, brief forms down the middle, and columns of figures around the top. The walls were painted by the art students; the shop students installed the electrical devices, while the home-ec girls did the

'65'ers Spell Out Success

"This is your 'Man on the Street,' ladies and gentlemen, reporting to you from near the high school at Rochelle. It is 3:15, marking the close of another day for the students. Today we are going to find what a teen-ager thinks about—ah! Here comes a likely looking prospect."

"Young lady, this is your 'Man on the Street.' I'm taking a survey to find out what the average teen-ager thinks about his class in high school."

Girl: "Well, I'm a sophomore, and as far as I'm concerned, the sophomore class is just fine! If it weren't for the subjects we have to take, I'd like it even more!"

Man on the Street: "And what subjects are they?"

Girl: "Well for one, good old biology—after all, what could be more interesting than the 'nitrogen-cycle'? Oh yes, and then there is English. I used to think I understood it, but the way things are going now—ugh!"

Sophs Learn Through Experience . . .

"Geometry always fascinated me—trouble is my memory is just about full to the brim—one more theorem and something has got to give! And, if you are lucky enough to have taken Home Ec, you can join the girls in playing 'button, button, who's got the button?' For those who took typing everything would be just fine if it weren't for those darn books constantly closing up on you and then ten off for every error, and those monotonous drills and . . . Oh, well, I can say, 'though, at least we are learning something.'"

Man on the Street: "Thank you very much. And you, young man, what do you think of the sophomore class?"

Boy: "Well, I have devised a standard for expressing my views of the class of '65, and I'd be glad to tell you about it."

S IS FOR SOPHOMORE. As we again lived through the confusion of the first day of school, we realized that the halls seemed much smaller, the classes much easier to find, and the lockers much less resistant to attempts to open them. We recognized many old faces mixed in among the new, and as the year progressed, we became acquainted with these latest additions.

O IS FOR OFFICERS. The sophomore class made a good choice in selecting president, Gary Reineck; vice-president, Charles Peterson; treasurer, Barry Benson; and secretary, Judy McCaslin.

P IS FOR PERSEVERANCE. Perseverance wins success. The class of '65 was justly rewarded for the help their boys gave on the football field when Rochelle captured the NCIC championship.

H IS FOR HUMOR. One student insisting that the text is wrong so as not to hurt the teacher's feelings—lunch time conversations—biology field trips with barbed-wire fences presenting certain difficulties—various skits put on by clubs—all added a touch of frivolity to the class of '65.

O IS FOR OUTSTANDING. The two sophomores in the play, the people in sports and music, and members of the clubs all contributed to help make the class of '65 stand out.

M IS FOR MOLECULE. We thought we had gotten rid of them last year, but there they were again, popping in their troublesome little heads in some strange thing called organic chemistry.

O IS FOR OVERDUE—the "Our Times" magazine that is. The librarians, Miss Macy and Mrs. McGuine, were forever reminding Mrs. Stotmeister's English students to bring in their "Our Times" on time. By the end of the year we had learned our lesson—five cents per period!

R IS FOR ANYTHING BUT REGRETFUL. Although there may have been a lot of bumps in the road, we haven't regretted our sophomore year. All in all, throughout the hard work and the nerve-wracking schedule, it's been fun.

And, E IS FOR ENTHUSIASM. At last we got up the courage to shout our class yell as loud as the others. Enthusiasm prevailed in every field of school and was shared by each of the students of the high school, and the sophomores have not been slighted in this field. E also stands for end. As the year draws to a close, we will look back fondly on our sophomore year and be proud of being the upper underclassmen."

Frosh Greenhorns Join Hub Herd

Mr. Armstrong, the freshman class advisor, directs class treasurer Gary Frakes to his next class, while Spencer Hayden, president; Debby May, secretary; and vice-president Mark Tilton exhibit a perfect example of freshman confusion.

Hi ya, pardner! Well it's been a trying year. To set you all outsiders straight, here's what happened.

On August 30, 1962, 238 "greenhorns" were sent to the big ranch called the "Bar R.T.H.S." On our arrival, we found three other classes, you all know 'em. There were a few main differences between us, they were older and had authority which they used to knock us around. Quite a change from eighth grade, uh? The homesteaders explained that these folks, whom we had to look up to, were just tryin' to knock the green out of us.

After a few days, er, maybe weeks, we finally got used to the old ranch. We didn't get lost (too much); we finally got accustomed to the sequenced chores (which we didn't follow at first); and made ourselves known to the older guys and gals. In other words, the green was knocked out of us.

We selected four foremen to represent us. They were head foreman Spencer Hayden, assistant foreman Mark Tilton, pencil pusher Debby May, and loot-keeper Gary Frakes. Eight other "dudes" represented us in the Ranch Hand Council. They were Jim Bucher, Jack Case, Bob Chadwick, Will Gavin, Marilyn Kersten, Joey Maxson, Harlan Richards, and Rick Wyatt. We also had a couple of "dudes" entertain at the rodeos. Yep, we had a cowgirl, name of Diane Hendrickson, whooping it up on the sidelines and another gal, Debby May, beating it up with a . . . a . . . baton(?). Then, too, some "greenhorns" participated in the extracurriculars that were available to us. Among these were Jesters, F.T.A., F.F.A., F.N.A., F.H.A., and the "lingo" clubs.

Frosh Receive Their First Pay Checks

In addition, we "dudes" were active in the "Bar R.T.H.S." bands and the orchestra. Many a freshman tried his vocals in the choruses and choirs.

The rodeos were the big sport in the fall. Our competition was the neighboring ranches. For the fourth rodeo, Homecoming, we had three blondes, Diane Hendrickson, Virginia Pierce, and Debby May, running for a place in the Rodeo Queen's court. Afterwards there was a big barn dance. There were a few more square dances after the other rodeos, too.

Additional sports became of interest to us "dudes." Thus we had big jamborees during the day and attended the games at night or in the afternoon.

The first pay checks were passed out about this time. Wow! There were so many disappointed, questioning, astonished, and proud looks. As we discovered, the salary depends upon the amount of work done. If a hand worked up a good salary, he was placed on the Ranch Honor Roll, and his name made good with the homesteaders.

Later, more pay checks came our way, and as the result of nine months of hard work, we finally advanced from the freshman to the sophomore class.

Student Council Donates to Two Area Orphanages

This year the Student Council consisted of thirty-two members, eight being chosen from each class in a fall election. With this new form of selection, Mr. Maris, Council advisor, felt that the Council has a broader representation from the four classes. He stated, "It is also the best Council, from the grade standpoint, since I've been in Rochelle." President, Sue Hayden; vice-president, Lynn Kettleson; secretary, Rosalie Reed; and treasurer Dave Snyder, led the group this year.

Members started the year by selecting the Frosh-Soph cheerleaders and sponsoring the annual Homecoming. Although they discontinued the Magazine Drive, the Council again collected money for a Christmas donation to two area orphanages, St. Vincent's in Freeport and Rosencrance in Rockford. The Council also presented a successful fourth annual Variety Show on Saturday, February 23. All members contributed many long hours judging tryouts, attending rehearsals, and publicizing the show.

The councilmen initiated two additional projects this year. They looked into the possibility of a constitution for the Council and of securing a foreign exchange student for the 1963-64 school year. Proceeds from the Variety Review were donated to a fund for the exchange student's expenses, which are around $700.

Library Club . . . Guide to Knowledge

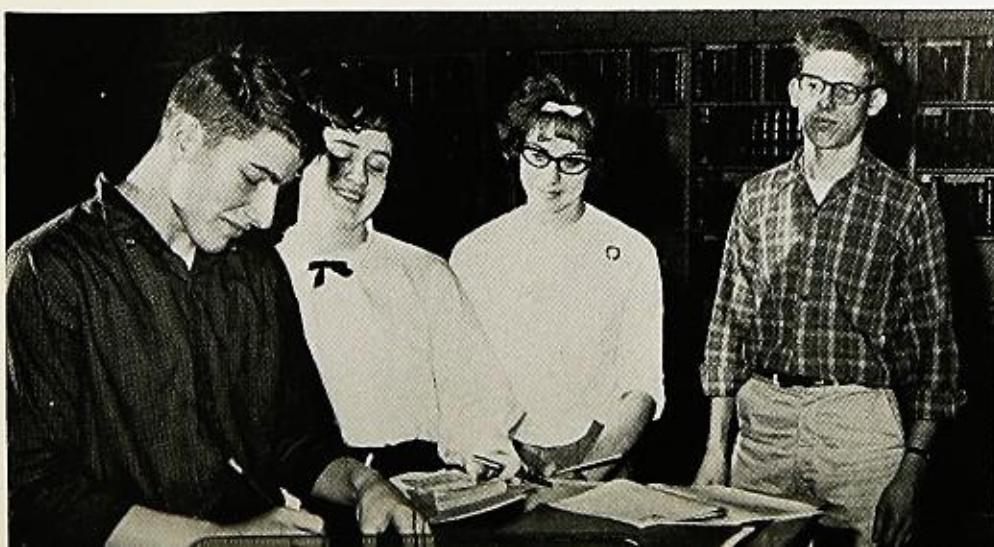

According to Webster, "a library is an apartment or building devoted to a collection of books, manuscripts, etc., kept for use, not for sale." This is an appropriate description of the library of Rochelle Township High.

Each day that school was in session, more than three hundred people used the library for various reasons and during that time received help from either the librarians or their assistants.

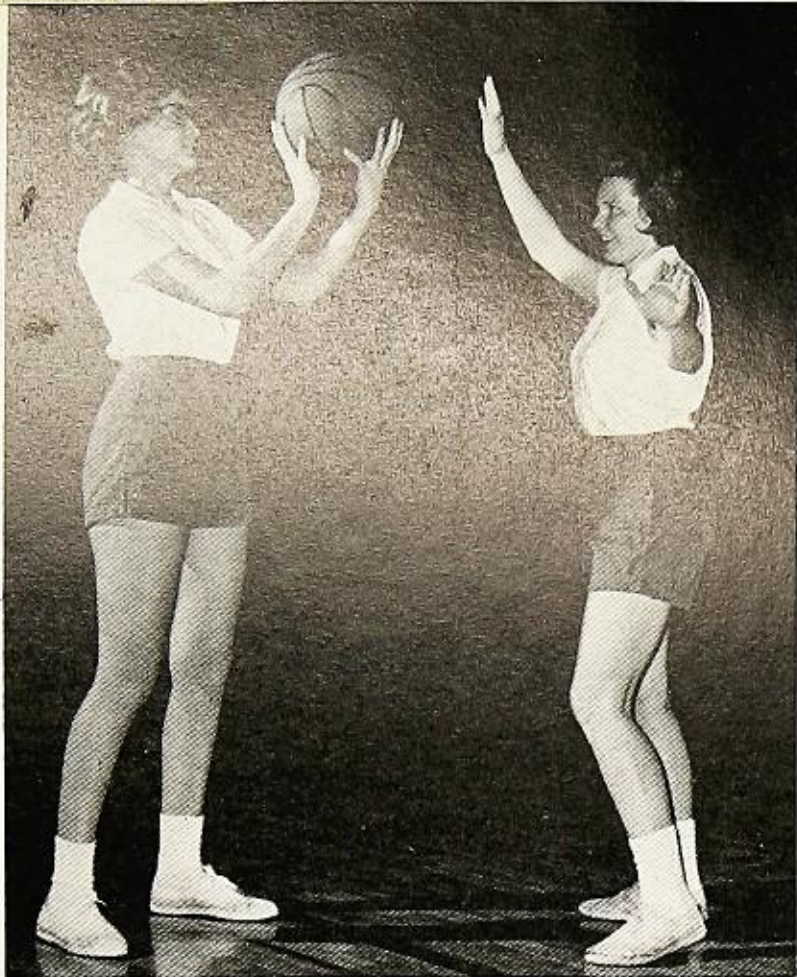

These assistants prepared for their daily work by studying the various library techniques at their bi-monthly meetings. Although the assistants' main duties were checking out books and magazines for their fellow students, they also took on other work. This included shelving books and finding material in reference works about the books, authors, and companies from which the library received supplies and reference books. Besides the work required of them, members also did extra work, such as making displays for the bulletin boards.

Don Newquist and Bonnie Edwards are examining one of the many new books purchased this year by the library.

Following the familiar procedure of signing in at the library desk are Jim McBride, Linnea Brewer, Joanne Caspers, and Howard Berg.

Crystal Skinner is carefully guarded by Patty Tomlinson as she attempts a layup shot in a before-game practice session.

Planning their program for the 1962-63 season are G.A.A. officers: secretary-treasurer, Linda Baker; president, Cheryl Friestad; vice-president, Connie Stangley, and points chairman, Ruth Vandre.

G.A.A. Girls

Bounce, Volley, Bat, Slam

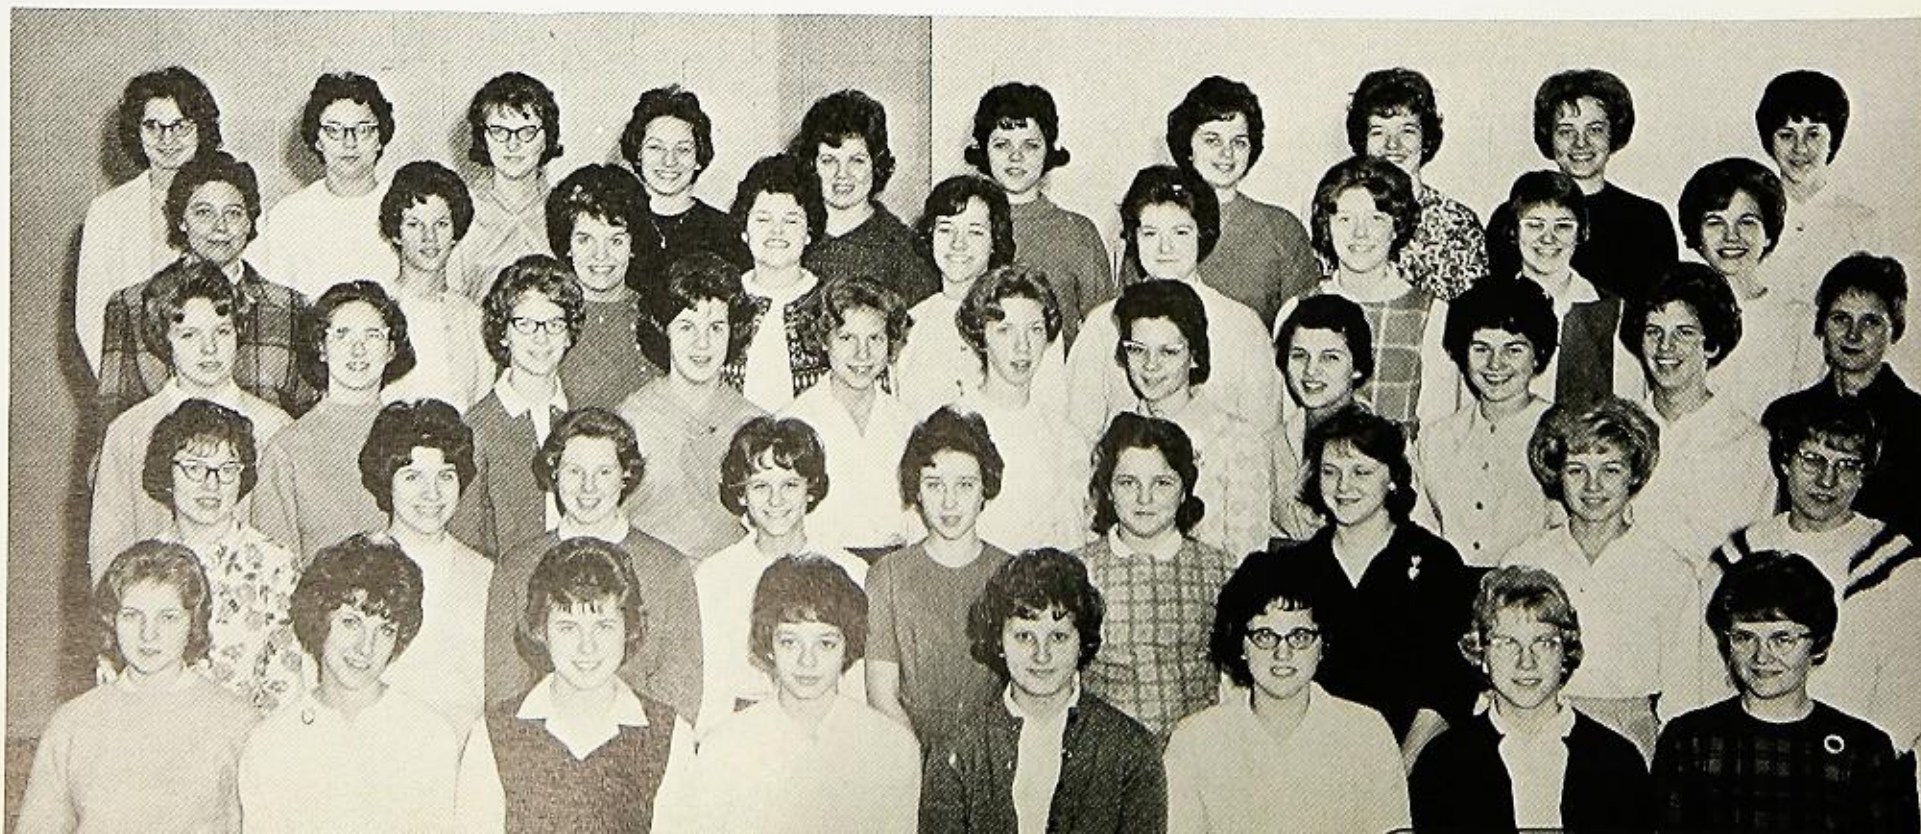

G.A.A. girls are really on the ball . . . basketball . . . volleyball . . . soccer . . . cageball . . . tennis . . . and . . . that favorite . . . bowling. A total of 20 points a semester must be obtained for a girl to remain an active member of this organization.

After the Geneseo football game, the girls sponsored "Pigskin Panic," an all-school dance. This year's calendar showed that the girls were very busy with exciting events. A workshop in Dixon, an annual candy sale, a "slumber-less" party, a play-day at West Rockford, an inviting spring hike, and a basketball clinic at DeKalb composed the schedule.

G.A.A. was held two nights a week, Monday and Thursday, for convenience of bus riders and girls who have other obligations. Advisors Miss Fowler and Miss Luhtala noticed, however, that most of the girls were coming both nights. Later they discovered that the girls had found out about a social planned with the Varsity Club and were attending bi-weekly to obtain more information about it.

Officers elected for the 1962-63 season were president, Cheryl Friestad; vice-president, Connie Stangley; secretary-treasurer, Linda Baker, and points chairman, Ruth Vandre.

Many Sportsmen Strive for Varsity Club

The Varsity Club's purpose is to formulate the policies which are followed by lettermen, to stress sportsmanship, and to boost enthusiasm in athletics.

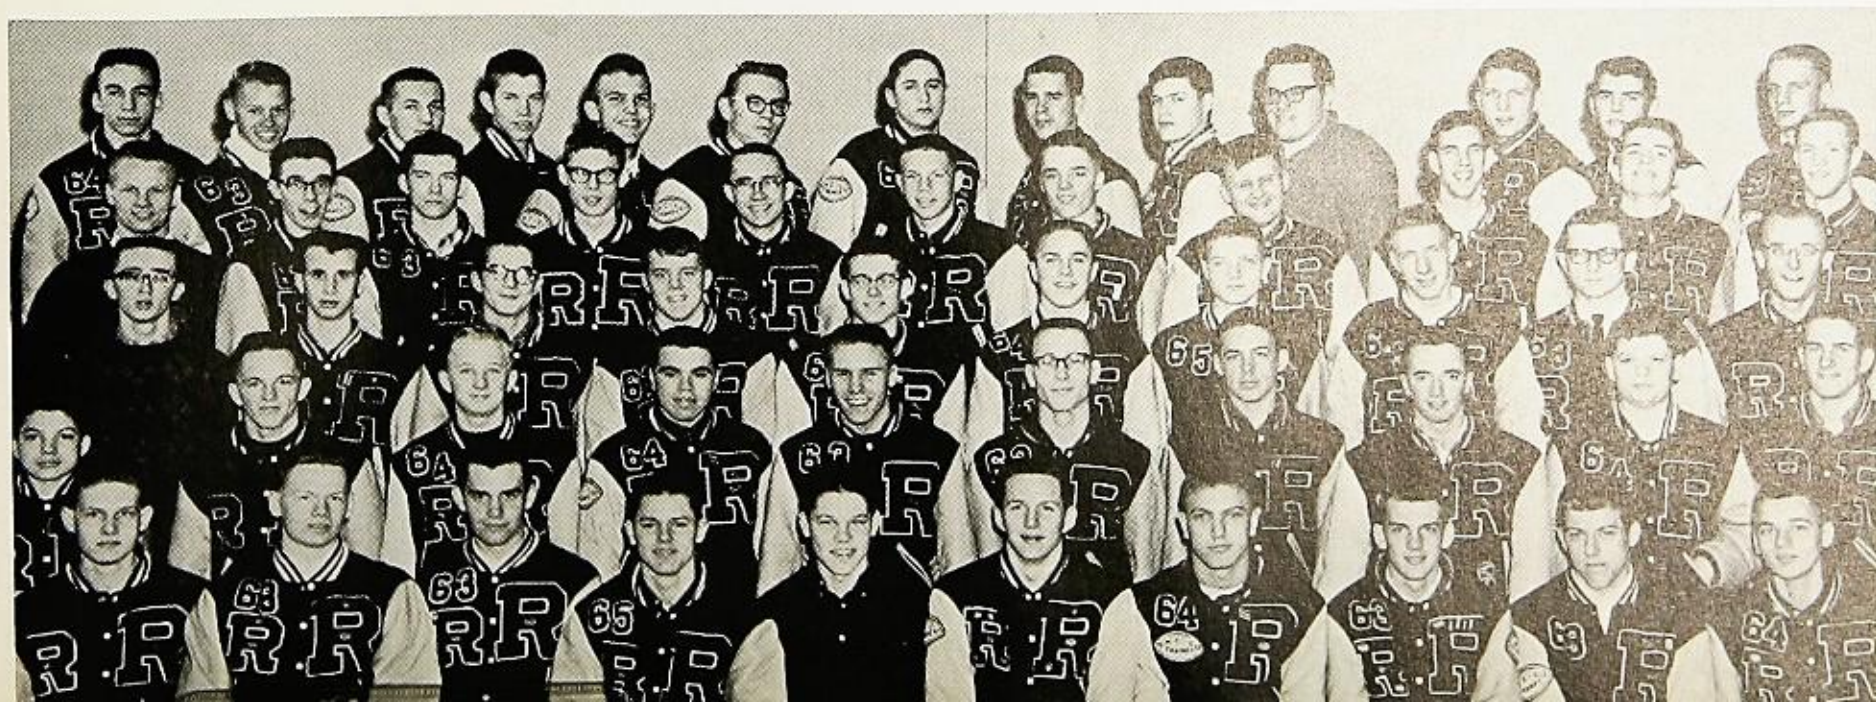

The qualifications for a V-Club member are hard, since each boy has to earn a major letter in one chosen sport. For many future members, the road to the "R" is a long one full of sweat and hardships, but to those who are fortunate enough to earn this distinction, it is well worth the sacrifice.

As in previous years, the Varsity Club engaged in many events. Annually they sponsor an after-the-game dance, an Initiation Banquet, and members usher at the home basketball games.

In addition, being recognized as a "V-Clubber" is one of the greatest distinctions an R.T.H.S. athlete can achieve.

Jesters . . . "All the World Is a Stage"

The Jester Club is one of the largest and most active clubs in Rochelle Township High School. Its membership consists of persons who not only enjoy working on the stage, but also back of the curtains.

"The Diary of Anne Frank," this year's annual fall play, opened Jester activities for 1962-63. Students interested in earning points, which must be accumulated in order for a member to remain in the club, did this by trying out for a part in the play or by signing up on one of the various committees such as stage crew, make-up, or properties.

Those students interested in speech activities in contest are also afforded opportunities by the Jester Club. Each year speech contests are held throughout the area, consisting of different events such as original monologue, original oration, poetry reading, after-dinner speaking, and extemporaneous speaking. Along with these events, a one-act play is presented in a dramatics festival.

1962-63 officers were: president, Mary Cedarholm; vice-president, Carol Birkland; secretary, Linda Corwin; treasurer, Linda Strawbridge; and points chairman, Bonnie Edwards.

"Act Well Your Part; There All the Honor Lies"

The National Thespian Society is an honorary dramatics club, whose members have earned an accumulation of 35 points by working in Jester activities.

Each year the Thespians have an initiation ceremony followed by a dinner for the new members. At this dinner the following officers were elected for the 1962-63 season: president, Carol Birkland; vice-president, Mary Cedarholm; and secretary-treasurer, Linda Strawbridge.

This year the organization presented a short play for the student body at a special Easter assembly.

The society, located in Cincinnati, Ohio, is an organized group, publishing a magazine, Dramatics, which a new member may receive free for a year following his initiation.

The true purpose of the National Thespian Society is to further the interest in dramatic arts in the secondary school, along with the organization's motto: "Act well your part; therein all the honor lies."

Getting ready for the big night, Donna Strawbridge applies makeup to Bob Bondan for the play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Spaniards Have Mucho Bueno Year

Rehearsing the entertainment for the after-the-game dance, "El Toro Solo," "senorita" Janne Hughes and "picadore" Tim Heitter irritate "toro" Parker King.

The Spanish Club fell into line with the other clubs this year as it commenced with its forty-three members to make another mark in the history of "El Club de Espanol" on the pages of R.T.H.S.

In order to get started properly, the members began by electing president, Brad Piersma; vice-president, Susan Harms; secretary, Katharine Carney; treasurer, Barry Benson; and sergeant-at-arms, David Gavin. Mr. Stahlheber acted as advisor.

The primary meetings of the year were spent in making plans for a dance that was held on December 1, after the basketball game with West Rockford. Committees rushed around arranging decorations, refreshments, and entertainment. When "El Toro Solo" was finally over, a sigh of relief could be heard coming from certain members of the entertainment committee.

Many projects were suggested by the members of the club during the year, one of which was to hold a Spanish fiesta.

Throughout the year interest and new ideas were stimulated, and the members of the club all decided that their efforts had been profitable.

Acting as a nucleus for the 1962-63 Spanish Club were president, Brad Piersma; vice-president, Susan Harms; secretary, Katharine Carney; treasurer, Barry Benson; sergeant-at-arms, David Gavin; and advisor, Mr. Stahlheber.

French Club Provides . . .

Entertainment, Knowledge

French II students Patsy Holt and Jim Peterson prepare the French bulletin board in Miss Lind's classroom.

The 62-63 French Club officers: tresorier, Margaret Nefstead; vice-president, Susan Olson; secretaire, Valerie Heitter; president, Carol Rasmussen; and chef des points, Lea Townsend enjoy playing Zero, the French version of Bingo.

"Bonjour mademoiselles et messieurs!" Entering its second successful year, Le Cercle Francais noted a remarkable increase in membership. The main purpose of the French organization, guided by Miss Lind, is to inform students of French ideas, customs, and the way of life in France. The club chose the following officers for 1962-63: president, Carol Rasmussen; vice-president, Susan Olson; tresorier, Margaret Nefstead; secretaire, Valerie Heitter; and chef des points, Lea Townsend.

In December the Frenchmen entertained Rochelle's French-Canadians with Christmas carols. Forty-three strong voices, almost twice as many as last year, sang carols in the French language, making the outing a very successful one.

In January club members participated in what is known as a "Tirer des rois." This old French custom is the selection of a king and queen by eating large cakes, called "galettes," two of which contain beans. Lea Townsend and Gale Biers discovered beans in their cake and were crowned king and queen.

A bit of France came to Rochelle Friday, January 25, when the French Club sponsored a dance, "Un Soir a Paris," after the basketball game with Rock Falls. Entertainment was provided and refreshments were served.

Tentative plans were made for a spring trip to Chicago to eat at a French restaurant.

Young Romans Don Togas to Create Food.

Report of Anno MCMLXII-MCMLXIII

Report that all is quiet on the border. The Romans at Rochelle Township High School never create any trouble for me. Only one minor incident has taken place to distress me, and that was a skirmish between the Plebians and the Patricians in the "Westis Lateris Fabula." Only three men were killed.

JoAnne Gustafson, Nancy Williams, Spencer Hayden, Diane Hendrickson, Bob Lytle, Lyle Leszinske, Margaret Carney, Steve Koontz, Bob Burkholder, and Bob

Chadwick were appointed "aediles" and voted for democratic rule. At the "primum" town meeting, nominations and elections were hold. The new reigning powers of this district were as follows: consul, Margaret Carney; vice-consul, Susan Truckenbrod; scriba, Sylvia Lund; and quaestor, Spencer Hayden.

During the "Saturnalia" holidays, the local Plebians and Patricians threw a party to honor the occasion. Food and wine were plentiful and Latin carols were lustily sung by everyone present.

Fun, and Frolics Roman Style

In preparation for the biggest event of the year, the Roman Banquet, the young "cives" held a checkroom at one of their circus games. Later in the month of "Mars," these Romans also sponsored a dance for this purpose. Then finally the awaited hour arrived, the hour of the Roman Banquet. Your own cooks would have liked to borrow the recipes of the delicious and unusual dishes served that night. And your tailors! The originality these young Romans showed in the creation of their togas, stolas, and pallas was amazing! This banquet was held in the R.T.H.S. cafeteria, which is similar to our "triclinium," and decorations and entertainment were excellent. The slaves at this "cena" were superb and provided alert and attentive service, especially for the young "puellae."

In the spring, the older "discipuli" at the "ludi" were taken to visit a museum of Roman life in the "magna" city of Chicago, which I hear is very much like Rome.

Vale,

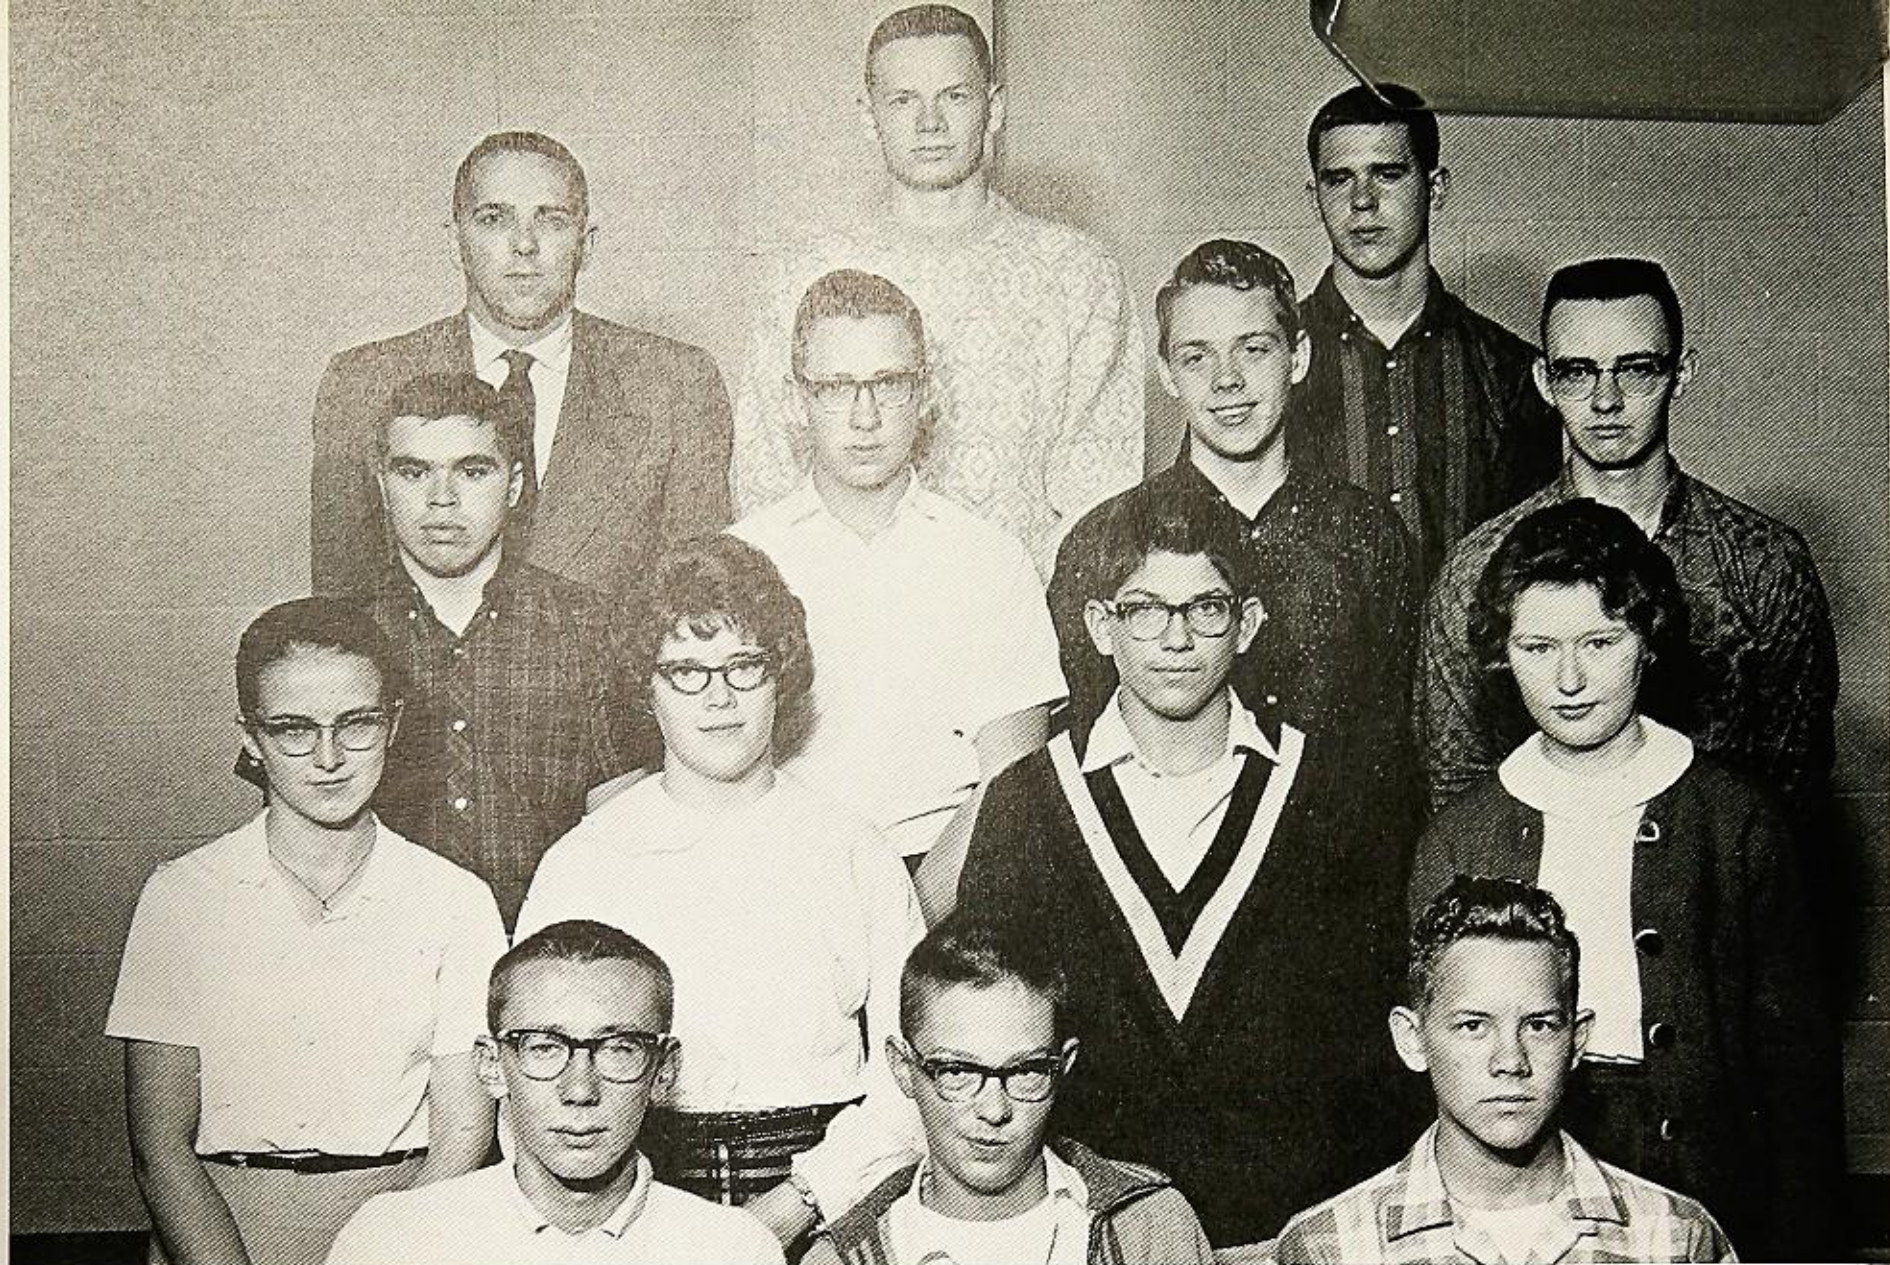

P.S. Regarding your generous offer of retirement in Rome, I have decided to retire here in Rochelle.

Kalah Gustafson and Robert Furjanic mark votes while Robert Chadwick guards the ballot box.

Threatening Riffus (Bob Helfer), Bernardus (Lyle Leszinski) exclaims, "Give me my Westis Lateris Fabula album or else." "Or else what?" asks Maria (Sandy Mattera), who is hiding the album under her stola.

Math Club progressed through the year battling brain teasers, with officers: president, K.C. Ward; vice-president, Jim Hovis; secretary, Ron Harms; and treasurer, Rosa Zayac.

Club members this year decided to tour the adventurous world of the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. There they took special notice of the mathematical and algebraic progress exhibit.

Other programs for the year involved speakers such as the salesman from the Friden Calculating Machine Company who explained how the calculator is operated.

Art Club Begins Its Eleventh Year

Now in its eleventh year, the Rochelle Township High School Art Club is an educational group which offers students the opportunity to develop understanding and appreciation of aesthetic values in the various visual arts.

Members arranged exhibits of creative work from the high school art department and visited various art exhibits at Burpee Art Gallery in Rockford and at Northern Illinois University.

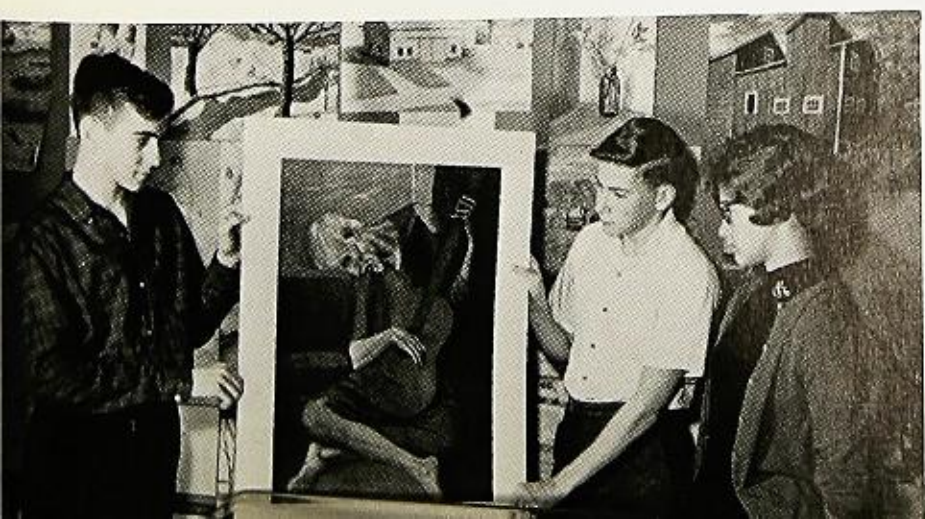

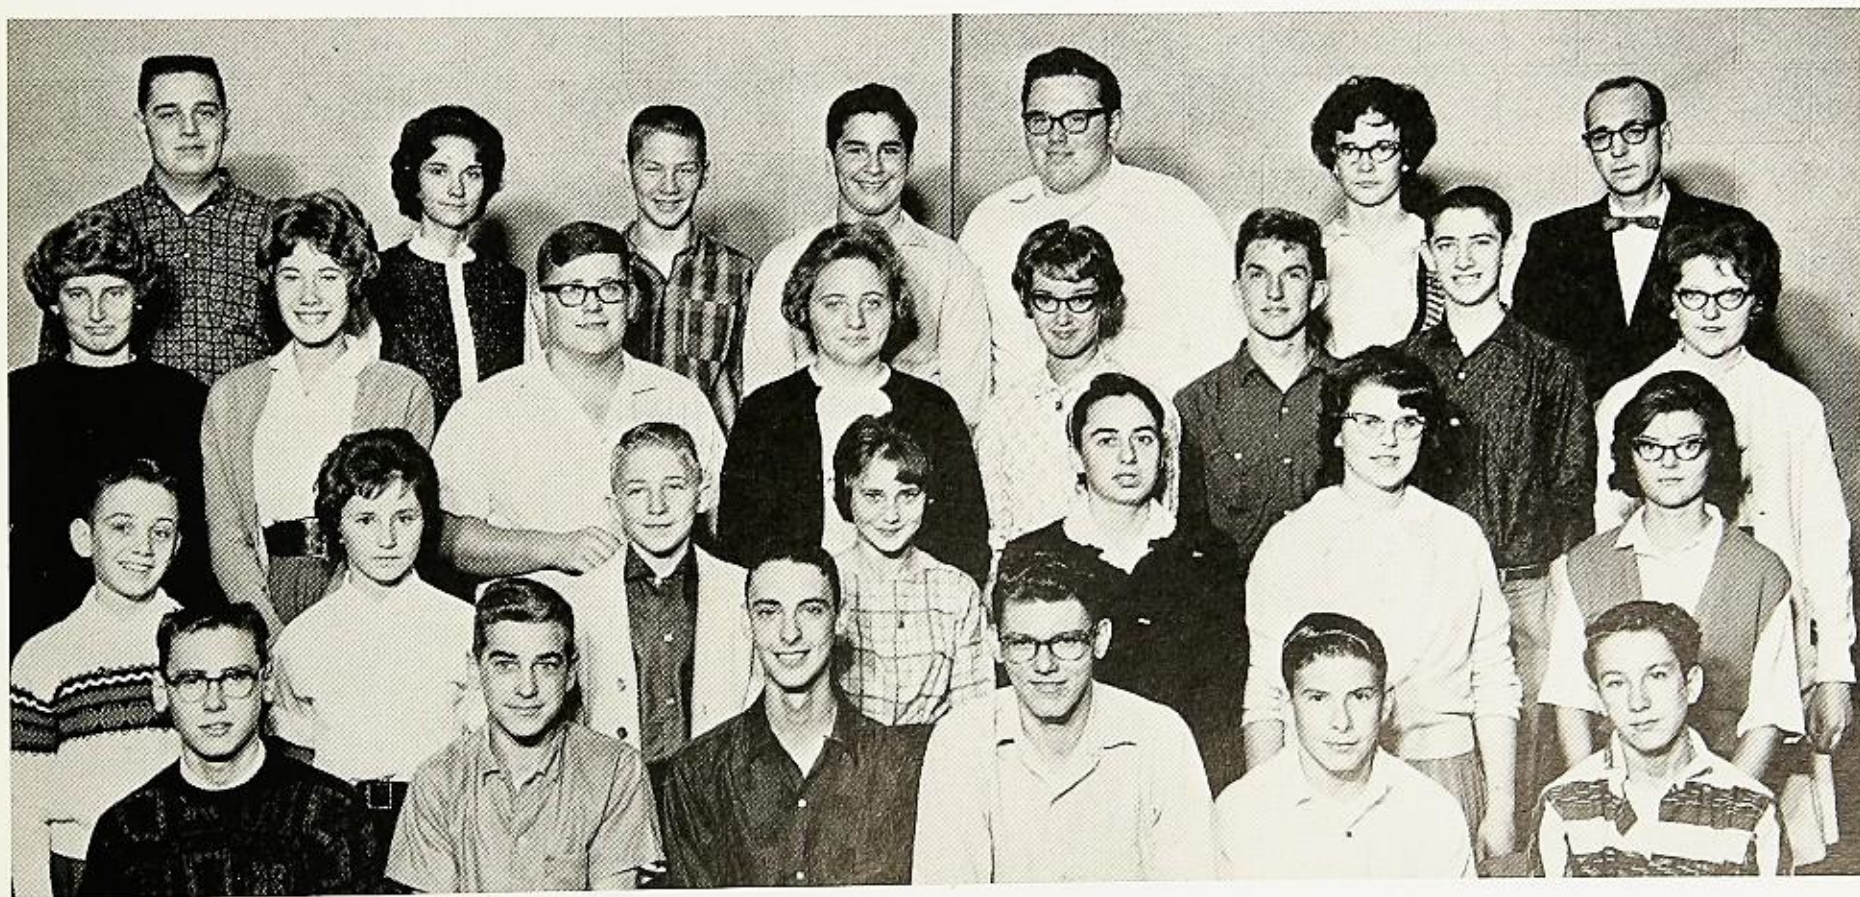

Several programs of color slide reproductions of sculpture, paintings, architecture, and other art works were presented by the club.

A color reproduction of a famous painting entitled "The Old Guitarist" by Pablo Picasso was purchased and framed by the Art Club. The picture was presented as a gift to the high school.

Medical Careers Ahead for F.N.A.'ers

The purpose of the Future Nurses Association is two-fold. First, it offers an opportunity for interested students to investigate medical careers through movies, hospital visits, and speakers. Secondly, it is a service organization geared particularly to helping in the medical services of the community.

Under the direction of Miss Parks, president, Katharine Carney; vice-president, Audrey Pollard; secretary, Sherran Finnestad; treasurer, Joyce Andrew; and service chairmen, Judy Rewerts and Sue Tilton, led the group in performing its regular functions. The Candystripers, a branch of F.N.A., assisted at the Rochelle hospital during the dinner hours, and other members of the club served as hostesses. During the month of December, members concentrated on making decorations, wreaths, and tray favors to cheer hospitalized patients.

January and February found club members busily involved with their largest activity, the "March of Dimes" drive. F.N.A.'ers directed the classroom collections, passed containers during the January 25 game, placed containers in Rochelle stores, and sponsored a dance after the basketball game February 15.

In addition, members aided in the "Operation Airlift" in January by selling tickets and weighing in customers. F.N.A.'s annual Rose Sale was held Friday and Saturday, February 1 and 2. Any person entering a Rochelle store who contributed to the drive received a rose from the F.N.A. member assigned to that establishment. Proceeds from all these events went directly to the "March of Dimes."

Miss Parks, advisor; Sue Tilton and Judy Rewerts, service chairmen; Joyce Andrew, treasurer; Sherran Finnestad, secretary; Audrey Pollard, vice-president; and Katharine Carney, president, led the F.N.A. through a successful year.

Rochelle F.F.A. Is Superior Chapter

Dick Ohlinger, F.F.A. president, placed seventh in a class of twenty with his steer, "Shorty," at the Chicago International Livestock show.

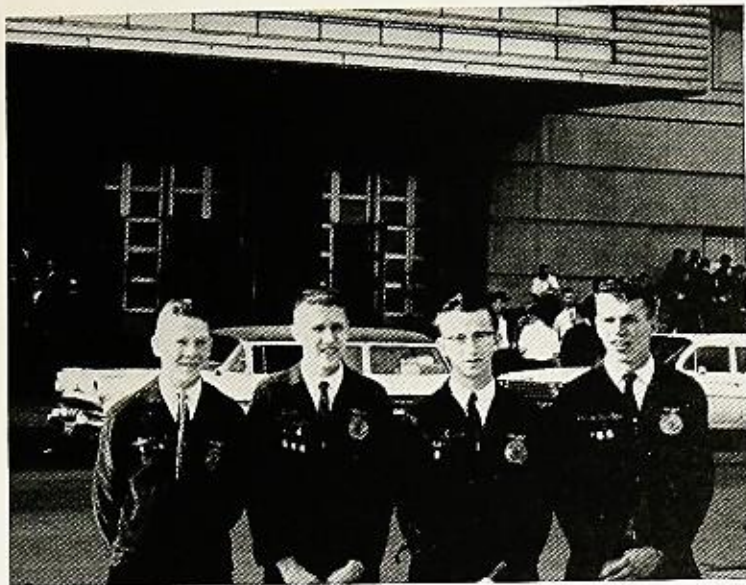

The Rochelle Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, whose purpose is to create more interest in the choice of agricultural occupations and to stress leadership, is part of a state and national organization.

This year the R.T.H.S. chapter received a "Superior" rating for the first time since the program of awarding plaques to superior chapters began.

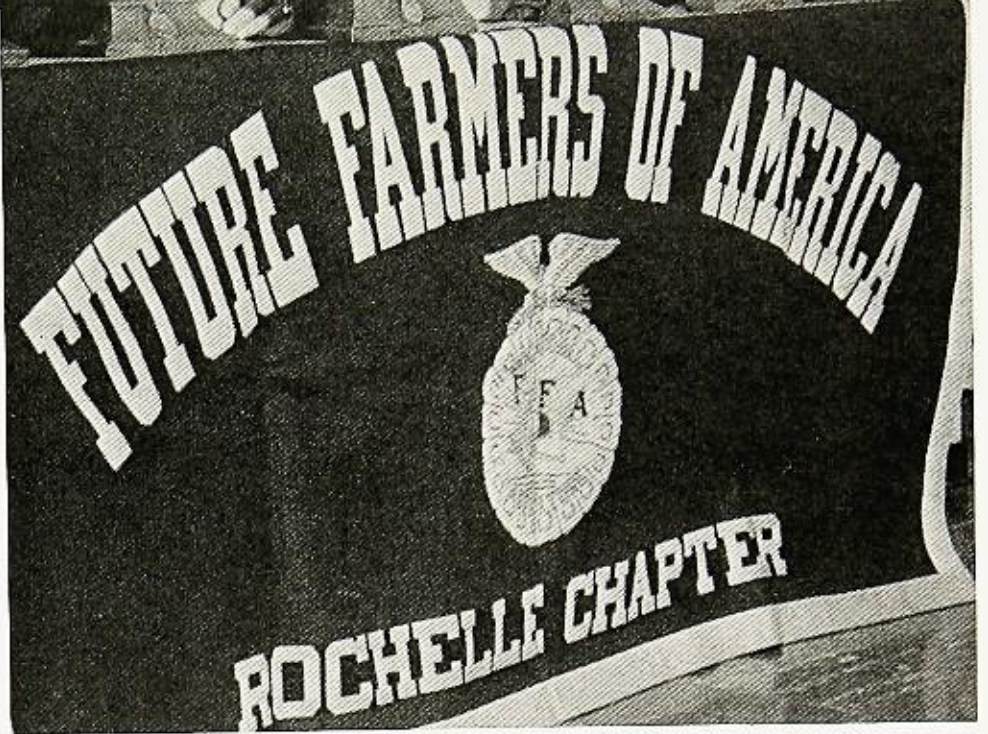

Various committee workers of the local chapter were: Supervised Farming: chairman, Rodney Engelkes; secretary, Harold Alberts; Community Service: chairman, Ron Steder; secretary, Larry Johnson; Cooperative Activities: chairman, Gilbert Pinter; secretary, Doug Berg; Recreation: chairman, Dann Luxton; secretary, Walter Elliott; Conduct of Meetings: chairman, Larry Ohlinger; secretary, Jim Carmichael; Scholarship: chairman, Mike Dyer; secretary, Harold Erdahl; Leadership: chairman, Jim Thuestad; secretary, Quentin Erdahl; Earnings and Savings: chmn., Charles Hendrickson; sec., Giehl King.

Officers for the 1962-63 season—president, Dick Ohlinger; vice-president, Giehl King; secretary, Wayne Page; treasurer, Charles Hendrickson; reporter, Dann Luxton; and sentinel, Roger Williams attended a leadership conference at the Sectional Officers Training School.

Representatives Gilbert Pinter, Dick Ohlinger, Walter Elliott, and Dann Luxton attended the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, where they talked to other FFA'ers in the United States, and from the Philippines and Japan.

Future Homemakers Highlight

The Future Homemakers of America have just completed another successful year under the direction of Miss Anderson and Mrs. Himes. Guiding the activities of the past year were president, Norma Curtis; vice-president, Nancy Williams; second vice-president, Linda Banning; secretary, Rosalie Reed; treasurer, Carol Reed; historian, Karen Fenwick; degrees chairman, Vickie Vanstone; projects chairman, Mary Reed; points chairman, Audrey Pollard; public relations chairman, Louise DeCoursey; and recreation chairman, Bonnie Mickey.

The year's activities began with Hobo Day and Christmas card sales. Money from these projects financed the annual winter formal, "Mistletoe Magic." Several F.H.A. girls also participated in the annual F.H.A.-F.F.A. skating party. Other activities of the organization included the spaghetti supper, Heart-Sister week, the annual style show, and the yearly trip to Chicago which completed the calendar.

Giving a smiling look of approval to their display window are F.H.A. officers Norma Curtis, Nancy Williams, Rosalie Reed, and Carol Reed.

Responsible for this year's activities are F.H.A. officers: STANDING: points chairman, Audrey Pollard; projects chairman, Mary Reed; degrees chairman, Vicki Vanstone; and recreation chairman, Bonnie Mickey. SEATED: vice-president of public relations, Louise DeCoursey; treasurer, Carol Reed; secretary, Rosalie Reed; president, Norma Curtis; first vice-president, Nancy Williams; and second vice-president, Linda Banning.

Irv Britnell and his date, Jane Sawinski, seem highly pleased with a delightful evening of pleasure enchanted by "Mistletoe Magic."

Tomorrow's Leaders of Youth . . . F.T.A.

The new school year brought many new changes and new faces to the Rochelle Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. One of the new changes was in the sponsorship of this club. Mr. Armstrong became the new sponsor and Miss Long, the new co-sponsor.

Projects to raise money for the $50 scholarship given at the end of the year included the sponsorship of coat-checks at public functions and a bake sale. Another project was the Thanksgiving dance, "Pilgrim Rock," after the first home basketball game.

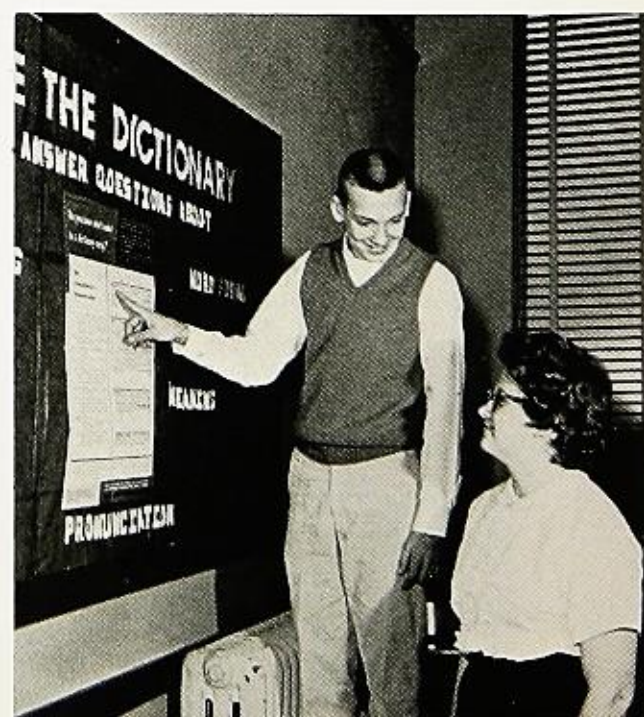

Another activity of the club is the "teacher-helper" program from which students gather information and knowledge of some of a teacher's duties. Special speakers were invited to some meetings to inspire members of the club.

On April 19 and 20, delegates from the club attended the IAFTA State Convention at Springfield where they voted for state officers. Also, junior and senior members of the chapter visited a local school which specializes in the area in which they are interested in teaching to learn more about their future occupation.

President, Sue Hayden; vice-president, Barbara Quantock; secretary, Margaret Nefstead; and treasurer, Nancy Lehr led the members of Future Teachers through an interesting and educational year.

Radio Club Provides Interesting Hobby

Projectionists Contribute to School and Social Life

The Rochelle Township High School Radio Club was organized to help interested students learn what an interesting and useful hobby amateur radio is. Under the supervision of Mr. Springmire, assistance is given each member in the theory of transmitters and receivers and their operation. Each member is given an opportunity to study the radio code and radio theory to enable him to take a test from the Federal Communications Commission and earn his amateur operator's license.

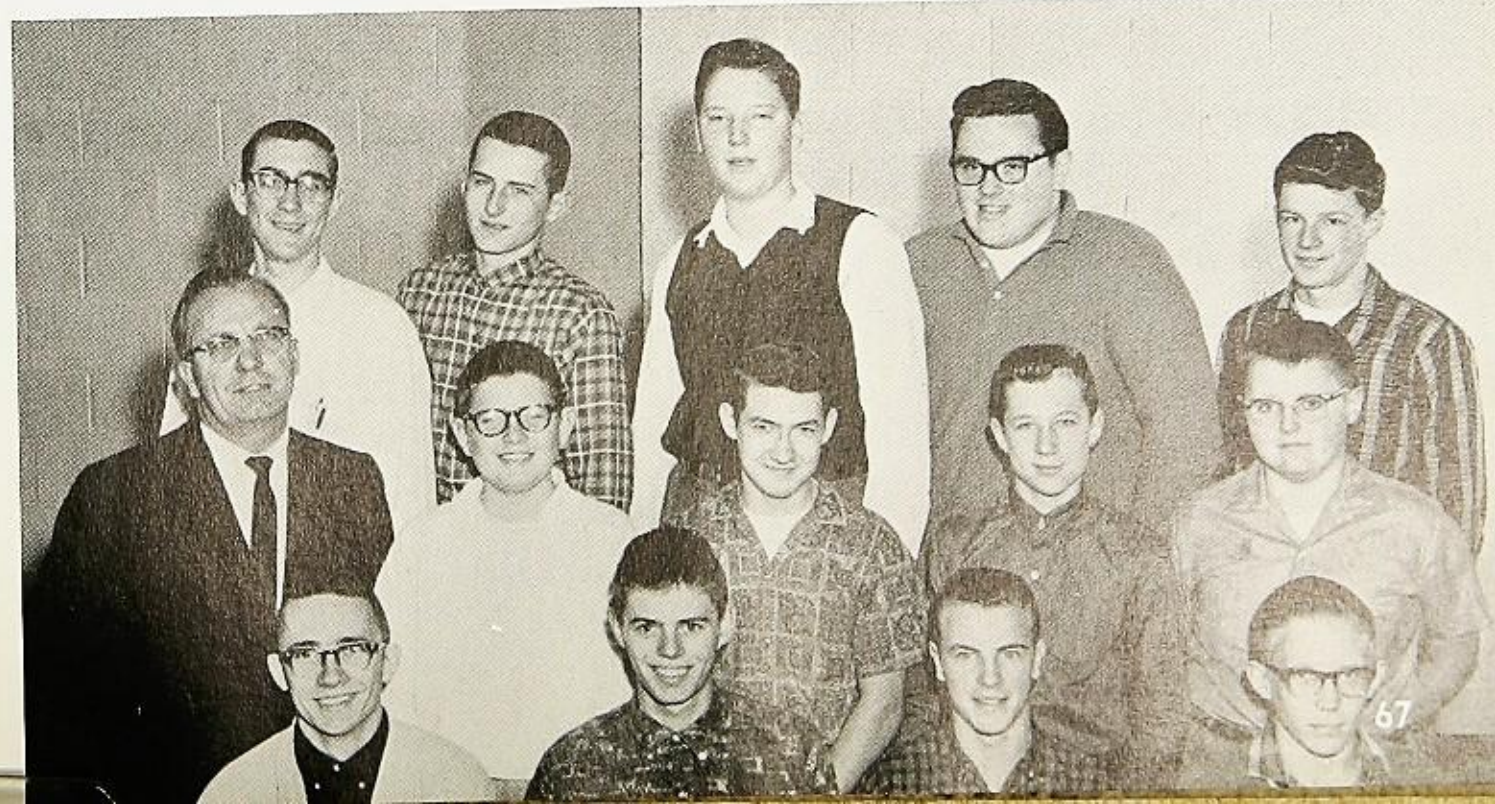

The club has its own amateur radio station, the call letters of which are W9FGL. This station permits operators to talk to other amateurs all over this country and foreign countries. Many topics enter the conversations, but radio is the most common.

The Projectionists Club is primarily a service organization. The members learn how to operate various kinds of audio-visual equipment and then assist the teachers as needed. Some members have also served the community in such ways as showing cancer films to various groups and films to migrant workers during the summer.

"Since movie projectors, slide projectors, and tape recorders are becoming common household items, information concerning them should benefit members in their adult life," commented advisor Mr. Nelson.

1962-63 officers were: president, Roger Ahlensdorf; vice-president, Bill Halsey; and secretary-treasurer, Gale Biers.

Tatler Tells Story of the Year

Thirteen veteran workers of the Tatler staff returned this fall to be greeted by editor-in-chief Mary Hintzsche, and their new advisor, Miss Lind. Gradually new members were picked up and put through the drills of yearbook work until the staff finally evolved to an organization of twenty members.

Editors Mary Hintzsche, Janet Ackland, Cheryl Berg, Margaret Nefstead, and Lynn Kettleson decided, as a result of their "summit" meetings, that "Keys to Success" was the right theme for the 1963 Tatler. Eight new pages were added to the yearbook, which adequately illustrates that R.T.H.S. is a growing community of students.

Immediately following the planning of a dummy, work on the Tatler began. It continued until the very last second of the last deadline.

Fond memories will ever remain in the minds of Tatler staff members. Cutlines . . . margins . . . body copy . . . deadlines . . . more deadlines . . . "Hey, where's the ruler?" . . . duplicates . . . triplicates . . . "Criticize at your own risk!" . . . another deadline . . . "If I have a picture 3 3/8" wide and I want to reduce it to 2 4/5" how many? . . ." . . . "Cheryl, do you spell tired with one r or two?" . . . neatness . . . "Come on, Mary Jane, don't lock yourself in the darkroom again!" Ah, yes, fond memories indeed!

All of these add up to the production of the 1963 Tatler, which the staff hopes will be the best ever.

Learning, Work, and Experience Produce '63 Tatler

While Susan Fricker, Joe Koebler, and Marilyn Hickey produce creative ideas for their first assignments, Margaret Nefstead, the classes section editor, shows Gale Biers the first thing that he should remember as a new member of the yearbook staff.

Margaret Nefstead found that her job seemed to backfire when she was surprised by the candid camera while taking a breather between shots on a Tatler picture-taking day.

Deadlines Are Met . . . Ro-To-Hi-Life Goes to Press

This year the Ro-To-Hi-Life began an "error analysis" of each issue to seek to determine responsibility for mistakes that slipped into print. Comparing the finished paper, the dummy, the galley proofs, and the original copy was done by Terry Hoffman, Pam Purkis, and Connie Weisshaar.

Sports editor, Chris Krainak; assistant editor, Arlene Pesuth; feature editor, Jeanne Charn; and executive editor, Barbara Thomas, check the completed dummy for the Christmas issue. They are already thinking about plans for the next newspaper.

To see that the newspapers were counted for distribution to 9th period classes and prepared for mailing to Ro-To subscribers was an important part of the routine work in Room 216. Katharine Carney, Carol Reed, Bob Hopper, Nancy Williams were the main factor in the speed and efficiency with which this was completed.

After the typed copy has been "set" by the printer, staff members must carefully examine the galley proofs for possible error. Doing this task are Tom Marshall, Judy Rewerts, and Bonita Prewett.

Sylvia Whitener concentrates on copyreading stories turned in for the early deadline, while Paula Eber finishes typing a piece of copy.

One of the largest and most capable staffs in the history of Ro-To-Hi-Life manned the 1962-63 editions of the student newspaper.

Mrs. Stotmeister advised the 45-member staff through its 13 issues with the assistance of executive editor, Barbara Thomas; assistant editor, Arlene Pesuth; feature editor, Jeanne Charn; and sports editor, Chris Krainak. The staff itself was divided into nine categories—reporting, copyreading, proofreading, typing, page make-up, headlining, counting, distribution and error analysis (a new department organized to locate errors in each issue, to discover who made them, and to show how these mistakes can be avoided).

Besides continuing time-honored traditions, the Ro-To-Hi-Life introduced changes for the '62-'63 school year. The creation of Lab Blab, the green-printed Christmas issue, as well as excellent feature and editorial material, spiced the regular four-column format. This year, the Ro-To-Hi-Life did not print a special senior issue because of rising printing costs ($100 for the senior issue alone), but gave the senior class the choice of financing the last issue or printing the edition themselves.

Editors for the '62-'63 Ro-To-Hi-Life were well-qualified: Barbara Thomas and Arlene Pesuth attended a week-long journalism seminar at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, in June of 1962. Chris Krainak and Hublines writer Roger Williams attended a one-day journalism seminar sponsored by the Chicago Tribune in November of 1962. Feature editor Jeanne Charn received valuable information and ideas concerning the editorial and feature at the National Scholastic Press Association convention held in Chicago during November, 1962.

Much feature and editorial material for the paper was a product of the new English IV (journalism) class conducted by Mrs. Stotmeister.

Instruments, Vocal Cords Tune to Perfection

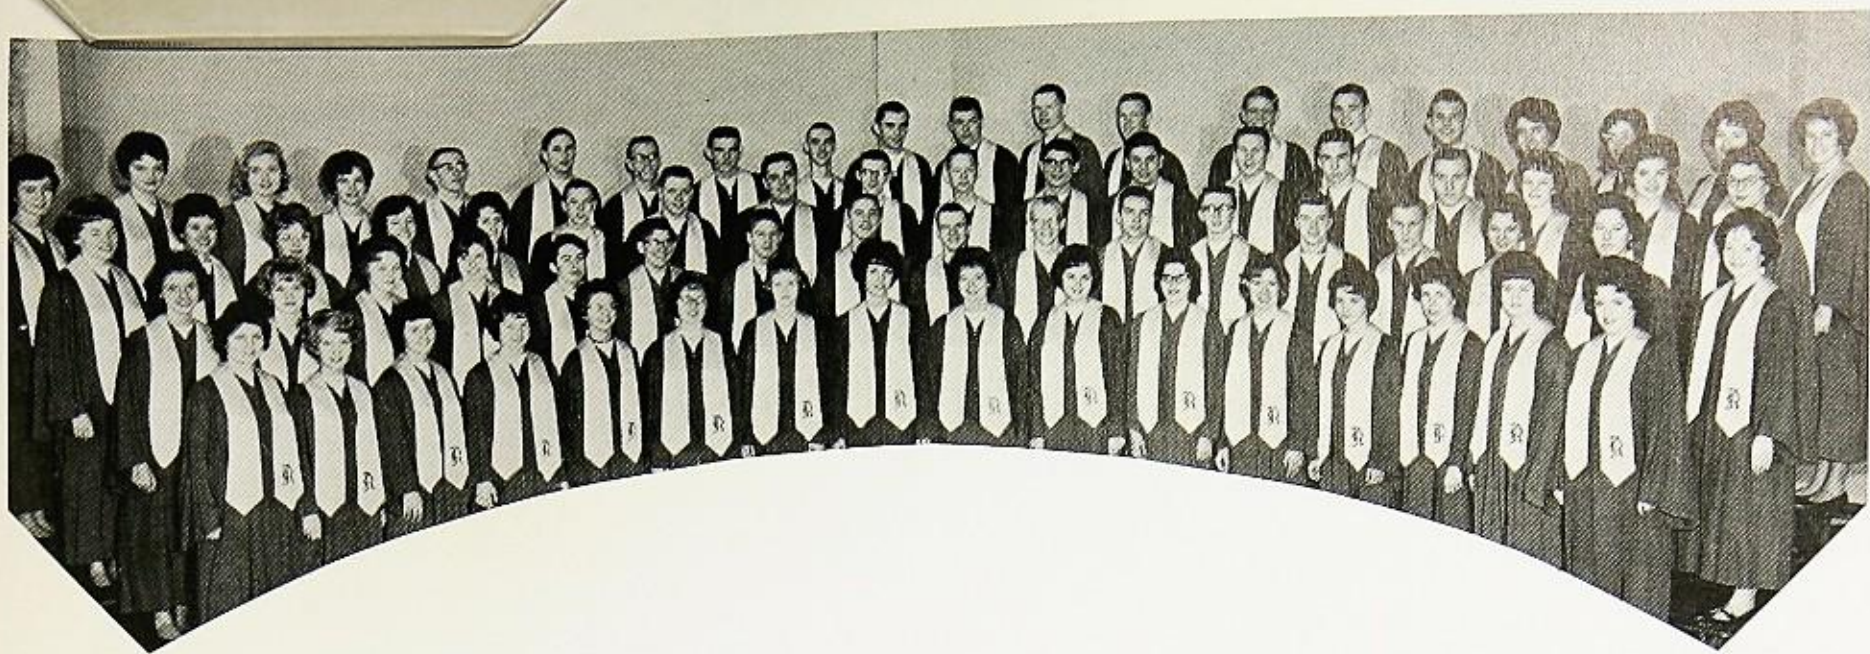

Not to be outdone by other organizations and activities, the Music Department of R.T.H.S. also presented a "championship" performance for the '62-'63 school year. Under the direction of Mr. Willard Gieske, Mr. Charles Engle, and Mr. Robert Erbes, instruments and vocal cords were tuned to perfection.

Passing trucks, limited space for changing uniforms, and incorrect assembly of an instrument before a solo performance all added to the confused but nevertheless memorable experiences of the music organizations.

The robed choir's first major performance—a Thanksgiving program at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago—was preceded by practice programs at Lindenwood and at an R.T.H.S. assembly. After the Sherman Hotel presentation, the choir members en masse filed into the Sweden House where, relieved after the tensions of the past days, they sang "Soon I Will Be Done" for their supper. On the return bus ride, stuffed, exhausted students wondered why the bus was slowing down on a dark country road. It seemed the bus was out of gas . . .

The choir also sang at the Christmas concert, a special orchestra-vocal concert, and the annual spring concert.

Marching band had a memorable year, if cold feet, dripping uniforms, and numb fingers can be called memorable. The seventeen performances included not only R.T.H.S. half-time shows, but also appearances at Harvard, Evanston, and the N.I.U. Homecoming.

Prep band, the "training ground" of concert band, hit a few sour notes at first, but as the year drew to a close, many of its members were promoted.

The orchestra, dressed in new uniforms, was in the public eye often this year. Besides performing before the Jester and Senior plays, it participated in the Christmas concert, winter concert, spring concert, a West Chicago exchange program, and the Mississippi Valley

Orchestra Festival. The orchestra wound up the year by playing for graduation.

Though lacking in size, 5th hour Varsity Girls' Chorus had "enough talent to go a long way."

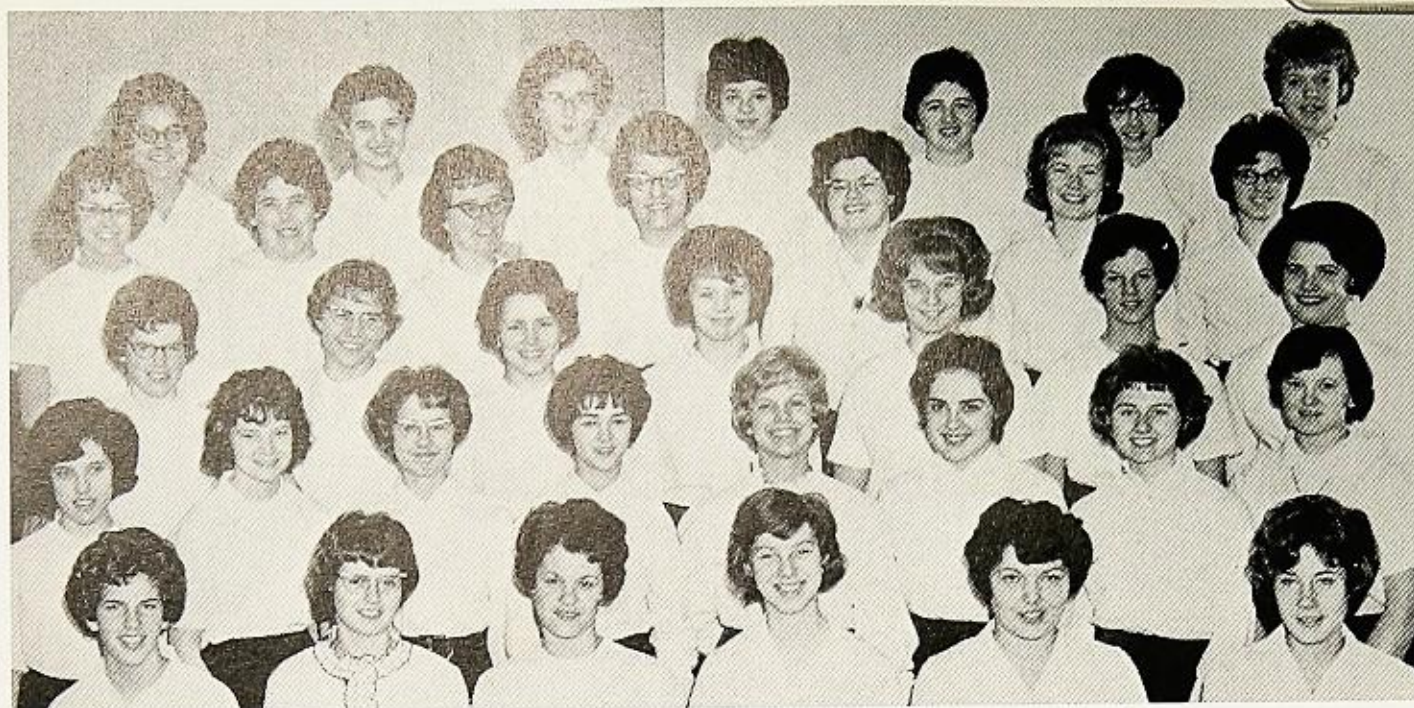

Mixed Chorus, however, consisted of a large group of underclassmen—mostly beginners. With Mr. Gieske's patience and lots of vocal power, they shaped up for all their performances.

Four R.T.H.S. music enthusiasts traveled to all-state: Mike Tracy, Carla Cook, Katharine Carney, and Ralph Pullin.

All these, together with dance band, dinner ensemble, German band, concert band, madrigals and the organ classes, combined to form one championship year.

"Diary of Anne Frank" . . . a Heart-Warming Success

On November 9, 1962, at 8 p.m. the curtain parted to present "The Diary of Anne Frank," an unforgettable play by the Jesters. The plot, written by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, centered around Anne Frank, a strong-willed Jewish girl, portrayed by Martha Maxson. Anne, haunted by the threat of Nazi capture, lived in a dreary warehouse attic with her parents Mr. Frank (Bob Bondan), and Mrs. Frank (Linda Strawbridge), the Van Daans (Carol Birkland and Hal Hayes), their son Peter (Don Peck), and Mr. Dussel (Don Kapraun). These people were supplied with necessities from the outside world by Miep (Surita Hall) and Mr. Kraler (Gilbert Pinter). Student director Sandra Erikson helped Mr. Bennett with the production of this well-received play. With the closing of the curtain, the words of a young, terrified Jewish girl rang through the auditorium: "In spite of everything, I still believe people are really good at heart."

A barren warehouse attic in Amsterdam, Holland, was transformed into living-quarters for the Franks, the Van Daans, and Mr. Dussel.

Sports

Final Results: Successful

The 86th annual Homecoming festivities were centered around the coronation of Homecoming Royalty, Queen Susan Maxson and King Bruce Gunn.

Once again, Homecoming activities created an atmosphere of excitement and tension with many treasured memories for students and alumni of R.T.H.S.

Excitement and determination were developed at the Homecoming pep rally where Bender's bruisers were portrayed by senior girls in a rousing bruising battle. At their victorious 31-6 clash with the Mendota Trojans, the fighting Hubs were backed by loyal students, concerned parents, interested teachers, returning alumni, and other supporting fans. A tense half-time ceremony yielded the crowning of the Homecoming royalty: Susan Maxson, Queen of the Court; Bruce Gunn, fullback, Homecoming King; Susan Barnes, junior attendant; Joyce Trowbridge, sophomore attendant; and Debby May, freshman attendant.

Romantic melodies filled the air as couples drifted across the floor to the music of Perry Long at the annual Homecoming Dance climaxing a night of excitement and enjoyment.

The 1962-63 favorites who were selected by the boys in their classes were Debbie May, freshman attendant; Joyce Trowbridge, sophomore attendant; and Susan Barnes, junior attendant.

After weeks of careful preparation and hopeful anticipation, the anxiety was snapped as the 1962 queen was announced during the half-time ceremonies.

The evening was brought to a close as the dancers enjoyed the dreamy and enchanting tones of Perry Long and his orchestra.

One of the highlights of the evening was the coronation dance led off by the royal couple, Queen Susan Maxson and King Bruce Gunn.

NEJE Champs

Peter Jones receives the Ellis Trophy from Athletic Director William Helms.

For the first time in history, the Hub grid machine ran under full steam throughout the entire season to post a perfect record. The machine's designer, Coach Ed Bender, and its engineer, quarterback Peter Jones, with the help of firemen Bruce Gunn and Lynn Kettleon, ran full power to amass a total of 301 points to 33 for the opponents.

The punch of speedy backs, along with a hard-crashing line, was a main reason for the high tallies in the grid clashes. Not only did the Hubs have an exceptional offense, but also a rugged defense which held opponents to low scores. The Hubs averaged 37.6 points per game to their opponents' 4.1.

The Hubs took a stiff opener from a tough Sycamore outfit by a close margin of 14-7. The win proved to be the end of a 33 game winning streak that the Spartans had compiled in four years. The Hubs were first to tally when, in the second period, Augie Eckhardt crossed the stripe for the T.D. Midway in the third period, Bruce Gunn added the second touchdown. The game tensed up when Sycamore added a tally, but they were unable to repeat the task and the Hubs were soon on the victory trail that would last throughout the season.

The next victim of the Bendersmen was a Dixon eleven, who came to the R.T.H.S. gridiron in an attempt to crush the Hubs, but were sent back to Dixon dragging a 47-0 defeat with them.

The R.T.H.S. grid eleven opened conference play dropping Rock Falls 43-0. The Rockets never posed a serious threat.

Before a record homecoming crowd, the Hubs battered Mendota, the defending conference champion, 31-6. Rochelle's speed and deception were more than a match for Trojan size as they scored twice in the first period and twice in the second to roll up a 25-0 half-time score. Mendota's only score came late in the closing minutes of the final period.

Geneseo was next to fall under the powerful Hub squad by a 55-13 score. Hampered by mud and rain, the Hubs were held to a 20-0 margin by a Princeton ball club. This win left the Hubs tied with Hall Township for the conference title.

Spirit and determination marked every play on offense as well as defense.

Record

Lynn Kattleson displays the Hackett Trophy, the most valuable player award.

Although Hall showed an early display of power, they soon cooled down as the Hub defense held them scoreless throughout the first period. This seemed to give the Hubs time to settle down as they soon hammered out their first tally midway in the second period when Bruce Gunn romped twenty-two yards for the marker. Augie Eckhardt and Dave Snyder each added markers before the half to give the Hubs a 21-0 half-time lead. The Hubs added three more T.D.'s before the Red Devils added their lone tally. After another marker, the Hubs left the field with a 46-7 win and the NCIC Conference championship.

The Hubs finished the season with an impressive 45-0 win over an ambitious Harlem club. The only serious Husky threat came in the final period when they crossed the Hub five-yard line three times only to be thrown back by the Hub defensive unit.

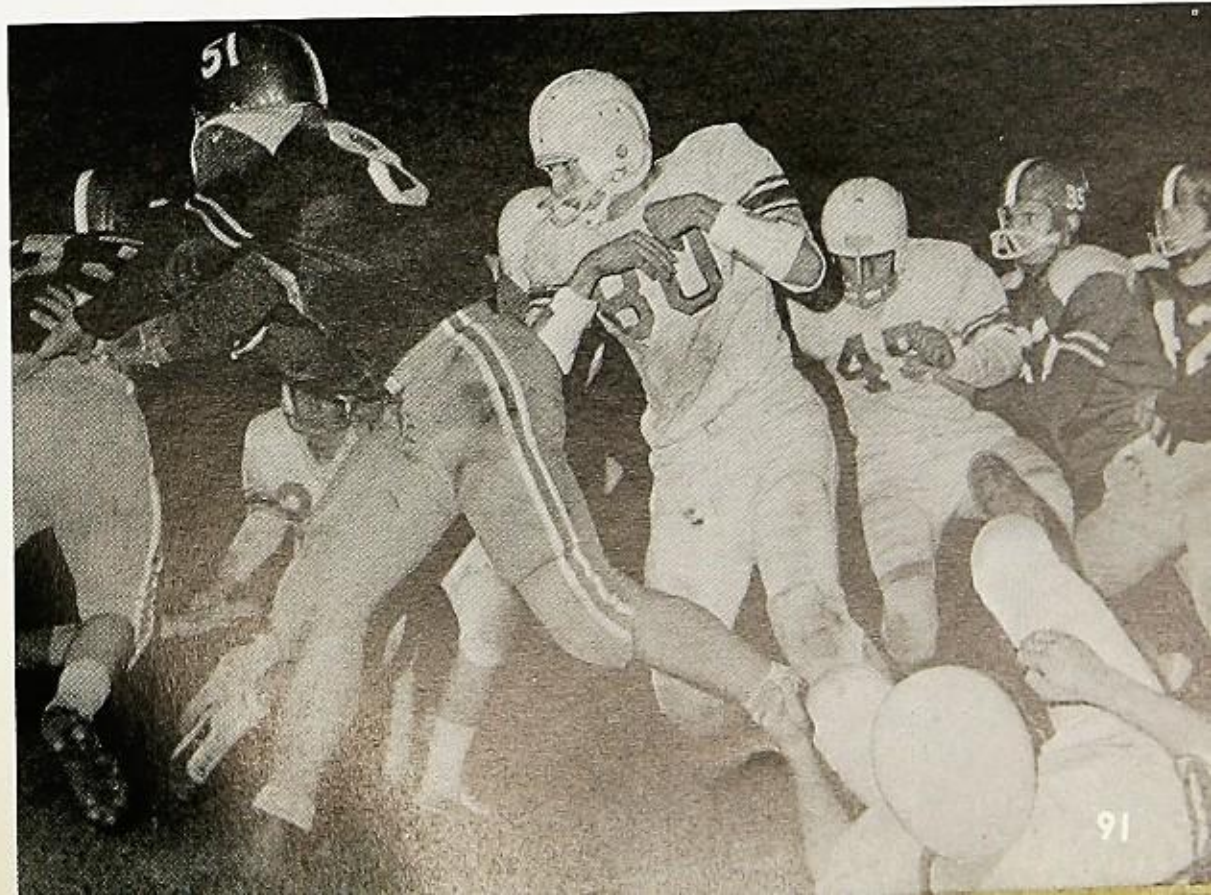

All told, the Hubs amassed 2,345 yards on the ground and 722 in the air, giving them a grand total of 3,067 yards and a game average of 383 yards. Halfback Augie Eckhardt led the Hub scoring attack with 72 points and 824 yards, averaging 9 yards per carry.

Seven of the Hubs received berths or places of honorable mention on various All-State teams. These were tackle Lynn Kattleson, halfback Augie Eckhardt, fullback Bruce Gunn, quarterback Peter Jones, end Dave Wickness, center Bob Eich, and end Fritz Harms.

A large banquet crowd saw Pete Jones and Lynn Kattleson reap the honors. Quarterback Pete Jones, who did a splendid job in that spot this season, received the Ellis Trophy for sportsmanship. The apt field general passed for a total of 604 yards and 7 touchdowns. All-state tackle, Lynn Kattleson, received the Hackett Trophy for the most valuable player. The co-captain played an important role in the line leading plays and stopping his opponents dead in their tracks.

The road to the goalposts is being opened by hard-working linemen who pave the way for backs.

Hublets Clinch NCIA

The Hublets exhibited some very exciting performances as they breezed through the 1962 season with a 7-1-0 record.

They opened the season by trouncing Sycamore 40-7. In this game, Larry Herring and Spencer Hayden scored two touchdowns apiece.

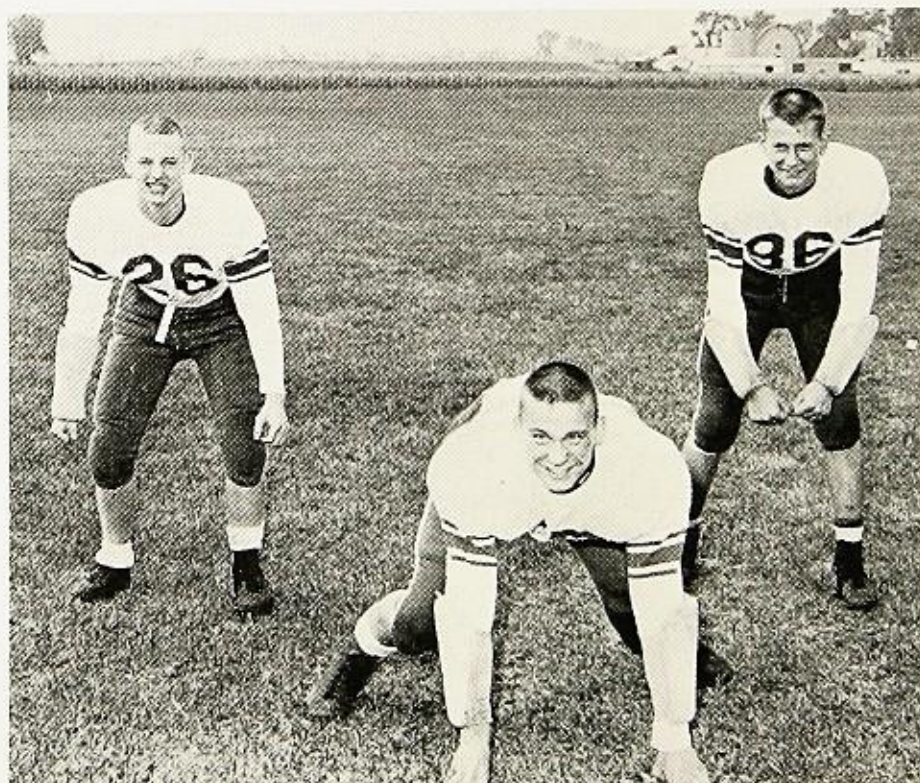

Next in line was Dixon who sneaked past the Hublets 25-20, with both Hayden and Herring again galloping over the goal line.

To revenge the Dixon game the Hublets went on to romp over Rock Falls 35-0 with Herring scoring all five touchdowns. From there, the Hublets set their aims for the powerful Trojans, and beat Mendota 20-0. Denny Starns was commended for his work on defense. The Hublet machine then marched on to slaughter Geneseo 41-0 and drowned out Princeton 26-0.

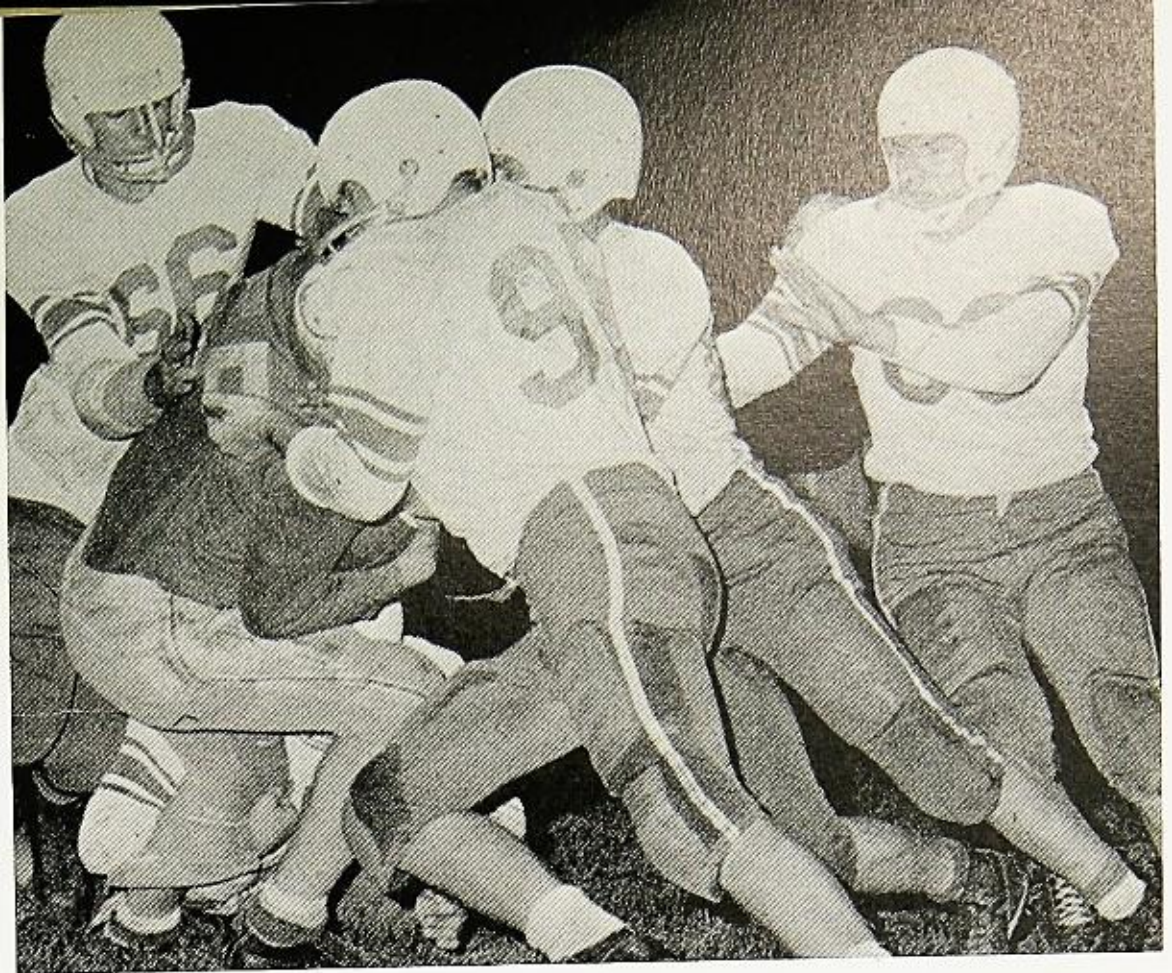

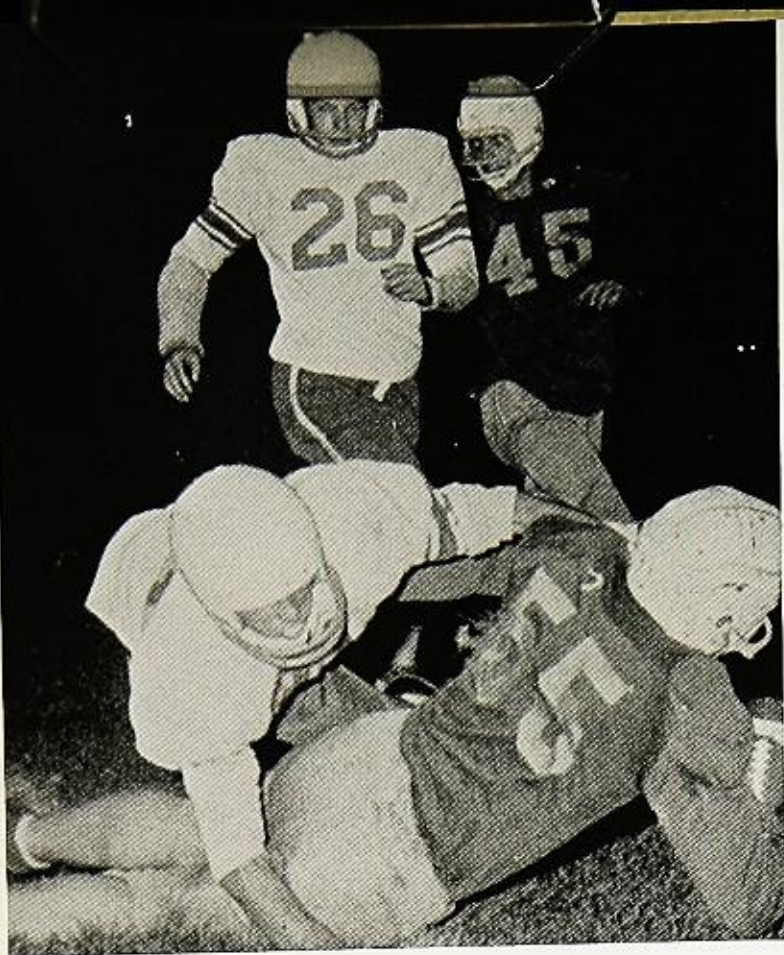

The powerful machine continued its long march and met the Hall Township eleven for the conference championship. With overpowering offensive and defensive play, the Hublets whipped the Little Red Devils 16-7. Dan Downey blocked a punt for a safety and in another play Herring romped 54 yards for a touchdown.

With the NCIC championship clinched in one hand, the Hublets finished the season by footing the Harlem Puppies a 34-20 loss.

Coach Lukehart commented, "The team worked as a unit and not as individuals. This factor made the winning season possible." Coaches Lukehart, Skoglund, and McMahon can be commended for their superb job of coaching the team on to its victory.

Bob Malone, Denny Starns, and Jim Manning ready their defensive positions for an oncoming game.

From the start to the finish, Hub games were fast-moving and breath-taking.

Mark 19-5 Season

Games were sparked with action.

This year's Mullymen composed the best record in years. Displaying excellent team balance and fine teamwork, they paced a 19-5 season, tolling 1614 points to their opponents' 1239.

The Hubs opened play with three straight wins over DePue, Mount Morris, and Rockford West. They then began conference play by dropping Dixon 75-61. After defeating Guilford of Rockford in a non-conference tilt and Kewanee and Geneseo in conference games, the R.T.H.S. five entered the DeKalb Holiday Tourney with a 7-0 record.

The first game saw the Hubs belt Crystal Lake 66-33. After edging past Belvidere 67-61 and DeKalb 53-47, they entered the finals against a strong Elgin five. The Hubs couldn't quite make the grade and ended up losing the tilt 58-50.

Undiscouraged by their setback, the Mullymen traveled to the St. Bede Tournament. After squelching St. Bede 63-54, they entered the championship round against Mendota. The game was closely contested all the way and finally ended in a tie at the end of regulation time. The Hubs couldn't keep up the pace and dropped the game 53-56.

The Hub five opened the second half of the season by clobbering Ottawa 72-39. They then edged Sycamore in non-conference play 57-52. After defeating DeKalb and Rock Falls, the Hubs were in strong contention for the conference crown with a 6-0 N.C.I.C. record. The Bulldogs of Streator had other ideas as they dropped the R.T.H.S. cagers 63-49. However, the Hubs were still in the running because Streator had also lost one game.

The Mullymen next battled out wins over Oregon, Princeton, and Harlem. Unfortunately their hopes for the conference title were crushed after successive defeats by Sterling and Mendota. The Hubs ended season play by dropping Hall 67-47

Frosh Prove to be Deadly

Coach Erwin's bouncing five found themselves in a very competitive league this year and were only able to retire the season with an average scoreboard.

The Hublets opened their new season with a very convincing win over DePue. Gary Reineck paved the way with 24 points, as the Rochelle five emerged with a 64-33 victory.

The team was soon to realize that a rough schedule lay ahead of them. Mt. Morris tossed them for a loss, but the spirited five came back to shatter West Rockford's conceit, 33-30.

In their first conference play, the "Little Hubs" displayed excellent teamwork as Harlan Richards led Rochelle in a victory over Dixon. The next night, the team showed poor defense and consequently, lost to the Guilford cagers.

The second conference battle was fought on the Geneseo boards, where Rochelle's Dave Olson pumped in 19 points to give the Hublets another deserving victory. From there, the Hublets dropped two close games to Kewanee and Ottawa, thus giving them a 2-2 conference mark. Sycamore was then easy bait for the revenging five.

The rest of the season seemed to be a conglomeration of wins and losses, as the plucky Hublets faced their opponents each time with fresh vigor and determination. The team worked well together and most of the bench was given a chance to play.

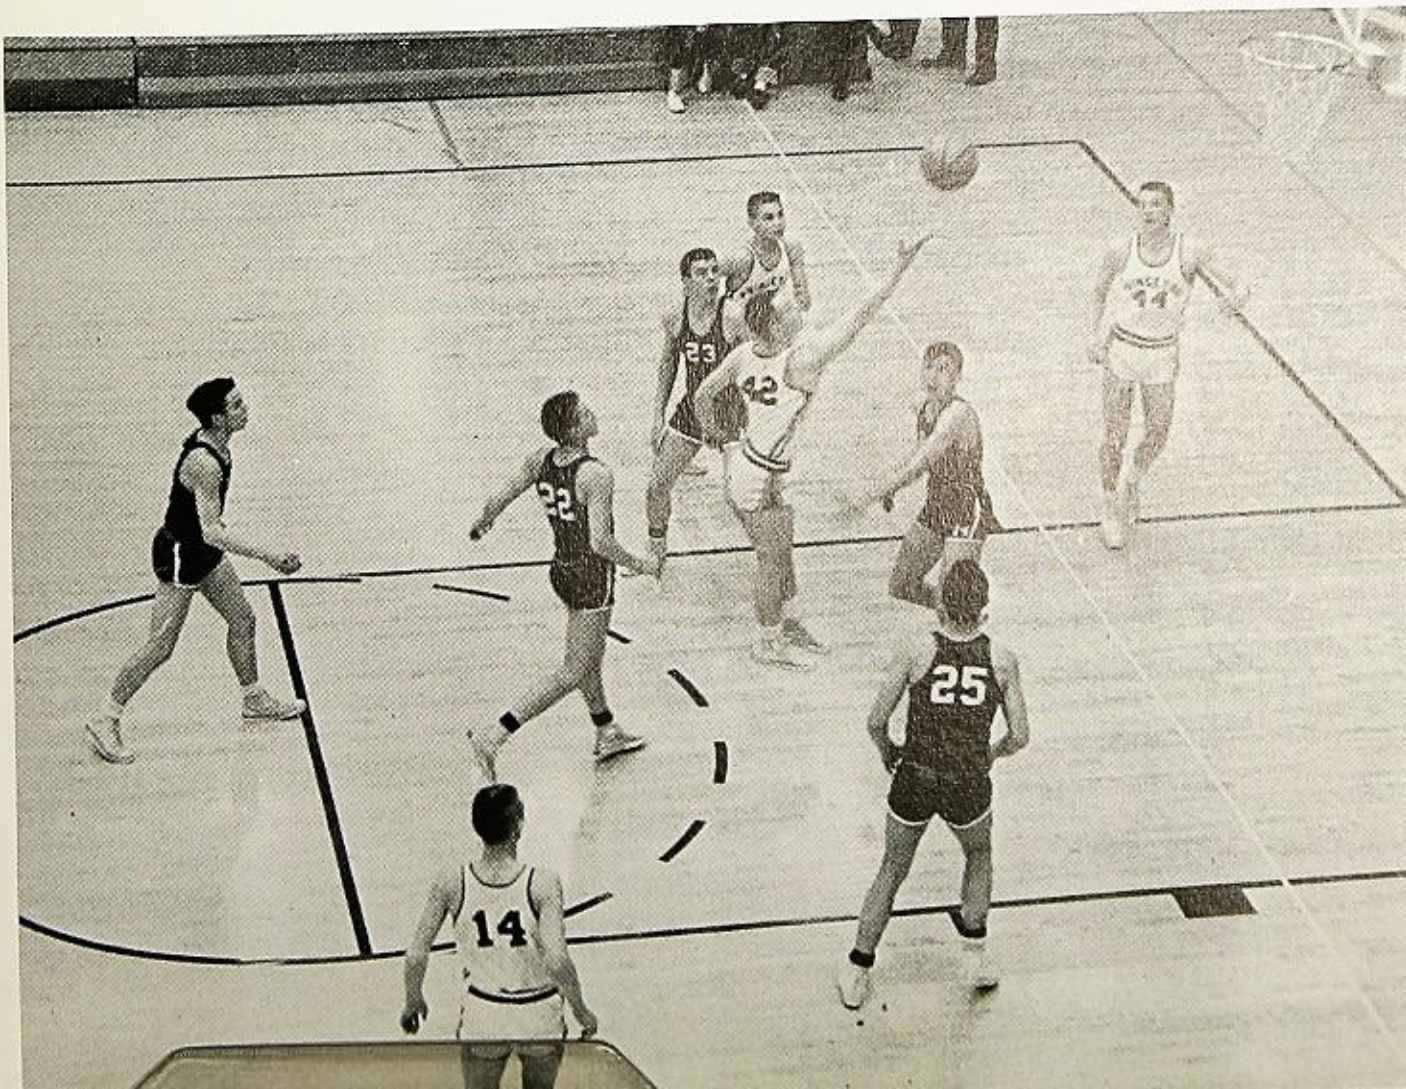

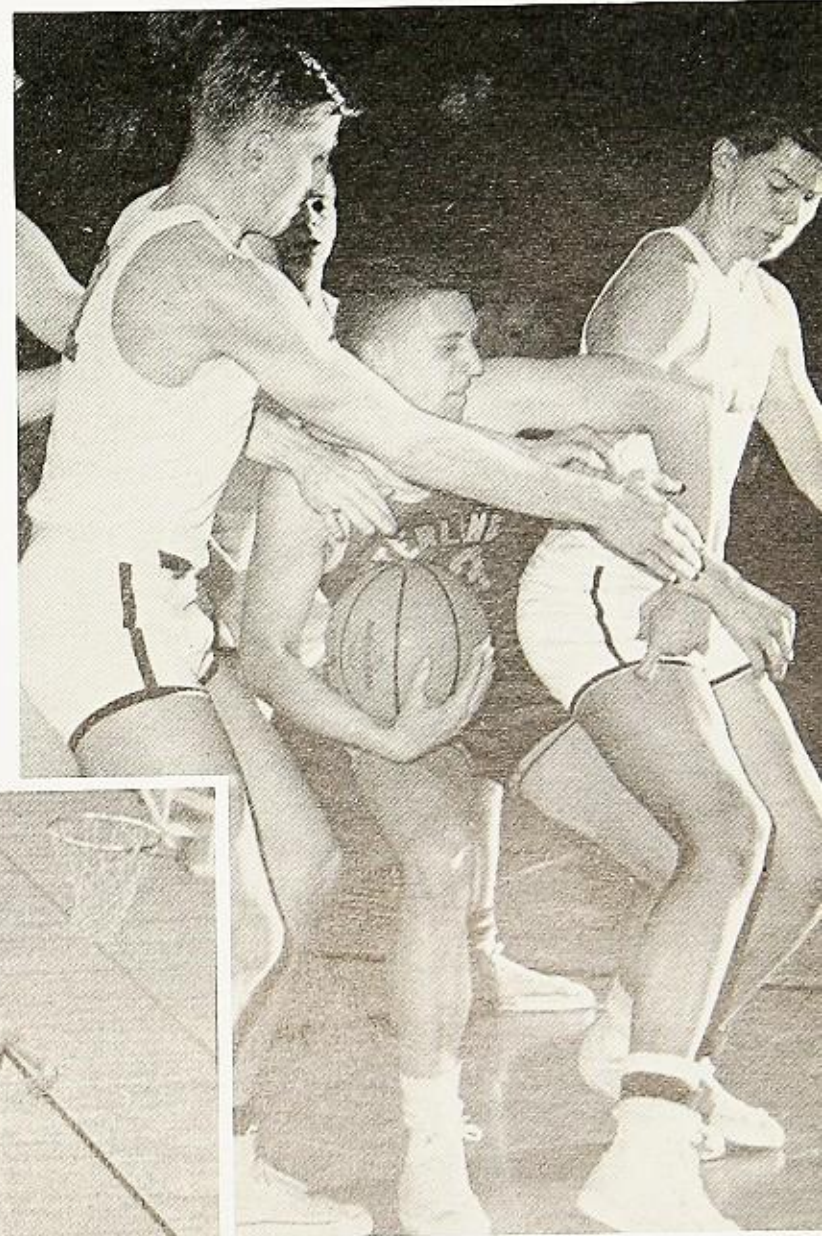

Although the team only posted an average season, the prospects for next year seem excellent. The Frosh squad went through the season with a marvelous 12-1 record, the best in recent school history.

Seniors Spark Squad

Warming up before a meet are wrestlers David Fischer, Wallace Peterson, and Jerry Wren.

Although it did not live up to expected hopes, the R.T.H.S. wrestling squad provided thrills for fans this season as they punched out victories over such schools as Rock Falls, Polo, Sycamore, and Princeton. With the aid of Coach Joe Hall and Assistant Bill Kontos from N.I.U., the Hubs posted a 7-4 dual meet season.

Future wrestling teams at R.T.H.S. have something to look forward to in such wrestlers as sophomores Harold West, Terry Eglund, and Denny Starns, as well as freshman Mike Daley. In addition to these up-and-coming wrestlers, seniors John Sammons, Jerry Wren, and Lynn Kettleson put on fine shows in their last year. Ninety-five pounder Jerry Wren captured first in the Rockford Invitational and first in the NCIC conference meet. When he didn't make weight for the district meet, he failed to qualify for the road to the state meet. One hundred-eighty pounder Lynn Kettleson finished second in the Rockford Invitational, second in the NCIC meet and first in the district meet, but failed to place in the sectional. John Sammons, at 112 pounds, won first in the NCIC, first in district, second in the sectional, and traveled to the state meet again this year. Other seniors turning in good performances were Bob Collins, Dave Fischer, and Wally Peterson.

This year's Harriers kicked up a storm of cinders and when the dust finally settled, they had written a new page in history. They jogged in their last lap bearing smiles and boasting of the finest record ever compiled by Hub runners, seven wins and three losses.

The varsity Harriers outran Malta, Rock Falls, and Guilford, and then went on to trample Dixon and Auburn twice each. The hard-running Mully-men were defeated only by East Rockford, DeKalb, and Sterling.

The varsity also entered three large invitational meets in which they placed well.

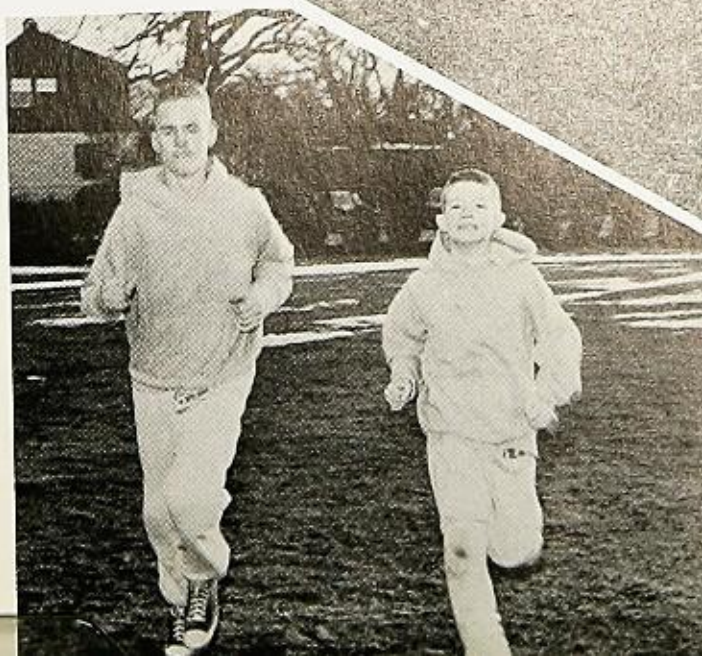

The Frosh-Soph squad also had a fine season, and they came in third in the conference.

The cross-country team was paced by sophomore Bob Hopper, who took first in the conference Frosh-Soph meet, and by Jerry Wren who was named this year's captain at the annual Football—Cross-Country Banquet.

Administration and Faculty

Mr. Peterson, school superintendent, dictates one of many daily letters to his secretary, Mrs. Parsons.

Dick Wickness is apparently pleased with the schedule change Mr. Maris, assistant principal, has made for him.

Administrators Set Policies for R. T. H. S.

Serving on the Board of Education are: Arven R. Hill, Gilbert T. Keefer, Charles Gustafson, Charles Hayes, president; Stanley W. Ohlson, secretary; Mary T. Carney, and Dr. Russell W. Zack.

Office typist, Helen Keefer, prepares letters for mailing as part of her daily routine.

Pat Erickson is kept busy every day preparing mail, typing teachers' work, and checking bus reports.

Ever-ready to help a bewildered student is Adeline McGuine, who has stacks of references and scholar-aides at her finger-tips.

Jerry Neumeyer, office receptionist and typist, prepares one of several admittance slips.

Sorting report cards for the school files is one of the numerous duties of Mr. Peterson's secretary, Willie Mac Parsons.

Before delivering over 200 students safely home bus drivers Leslie Montgomery, LaVerne Krahenbuhl, Grantford Brown, Henry Hutson, Carlton Eaton, and Dick Krahenbuhl take time to pose. Absent when the picture was taken were Clifford Eash and Leslie Springmire.

Rochelle Township High School, like any other organization, runs smoothly only when each part is doing its job correctly. The custodians, cafeteria workers, and bus drivers are a vital part of the R.T.H.S. organization, and without them, it would falter and fail.

The cafeteria workers keep the school fed. Planning daily meals, serving dinners for special occasions, and washing and drying hundreds of dishes, are only a portion of their average work load. Still, excellent results are consistently turned out.

The custodians assure a well-maintained school for the students. With their brooms sweeping in a never-ending circuit, they are always busy. Without them, R.T.H.S. would lack its clean, neat appearance.

The bus drivers let neither rain nor sleet nor snow stop them. They provide transportation to games as well as to school each day. With yelling and shrieking from their passengers, plus hazardous road conditions, these men have developed nerves of steel, and have become indispensable.

The staff keeps the R.T.H.S. organization running and on schedule. What would we do without them?

Cooks, Custodians, and Bus Drivers Indispensable

Sweeping, scrubbing, and rubbing are only a few of the many jobs the custodians perform in our school. STANDING: Chuck Miensma and Leslie Montgomery. SEATED: Joe Hockersmith, Claud Bales, and Chandler Kime.

Pleased with the results after planning next week's menu are cafeteria personnel Mrs. Calhoun (manager), Mrs. Anderson, and Mrs. Moland.
